Drama on high seas as Navy rescues hijacked ship

SANITISATION OPS

The Navy's Marine Commandos carry out a sanitisation operation onboard cargo ship MV Lila Norfolk in northern Arabian Sea

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

THE Navy's marine commandos on Friday boarded a Liberian-flagged merchant vessel that was sought to be hijacked by armed pirates in the northern Arabian Sea off Somalia's coast and rescued 21 crew members, including 15 Indians. The commandoes then started sanitising the ship.

"The Indian Navy's marine commandos present onboard the Mission Deployed warship boarded the merchant vessel and have commenced the sanitisation operation," the Navy said.

The merchant vessel MV Lila Norfolk had sent a message via the United Kingdom Marine Trade Operations (UKMTO) portal on Thursday evening indicating that approximately five to six unknown armed personnel had boarded the ship.

Responding swiftly, the Navy diverted its frontline warship INS Chennai from its anti-piracy patrol to assist the ship in distress.

The Navy also deployed maritime patrol aircraft P8I and Predator MQ9B drones, which kept a close watch on the ship.

"The aircraft overflew the vessel on the early morning of (Friday) and established contact with the vessel, ascertaining the safety of the crew," the Navy said.

In an update on Friday evening, the UKMTO said, "Military forces have now boarded the vessel and conducted a thorough search. No unauthorised persons were found on board, all crew are safe and accounted for."

The latest incident comes days after two merchant vessels, MV Ruen and MV Chem Pluto, came under attack recently in the Arabian Sea.

MV Ruen was hijacked on December 14 while MV Chem Pluto was hit in a drone strike on December 23.

Govt estimates GDP to grow by 7.3% in 2023-24

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

THE government expects the GDP to grow 7.3% in FY24, much higher than most estimates. This growth outlook is even higher than the Reserve Bank of India's prediction of 7% for the current financial year. In FY23, the real GDP growth was estimated at 7.2% but this figure may change after the revised estimates are released on February 29, 2024.

Most estimates had pegged the GDP to grow at 6.5-7% in FY24. The government's higher-than-expected growth is driven largely by investment growth, though private consumption continues to trail the overall GDP growth rate. Gross fixed capital formation, or investments in asset creation, is estimated to grow at 10.3%, while private consumption may expand 4.4%. The government's final consumption expenditure is expected to grow at 4.1%.

On the supply side, agriculture growth has slowed down to 1.8% in FY24 as against 4% in FY23. Industrial sector and manufacturing sectors are estimated to grow at 7.9% and 6.5%, respectively, in FY24. Construction has emerged as one of the key growth drivers with a 10.7% growth in the current fiscal.

4 officials assaulted while raiding TMC leader's house in West Bengal; Guv warns Mamata govt

Horror as mob attack leaves ED team bleeding

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

FOUR Enforcement Directorate (ED) officers were brutally assaulted and left bleeding allegedly by Trinamool Congress workers when the ED team attempted to search the house of TMC leader Sheikh Shajahan at Sandeshkhali in North 24-Parganas district on Friday morning. The vehicles of the ED sleuths were also damaged and the violent mob even chased away personnel of the Central Armed Police Force who were accompanying the ED team.

The unprecedented attack evoked a sharp reaction from Governor C V Ananda Bose, who warned the Mamata Banerjee-led government that Constitutional options will come into play if the 'barbarism' continues, while the opposition demanded President's rule in view of the breakdown of law and order. Condemning the ghastly attack, Governor Bose said such 'pre-election violence' will end soon. "This is the beginning of that end," he said. Sources said the governor has summoned the chief secretary and home secretary to the Raj Bhavan for an urgent meeting.

The ED search was in connection with the multi-crore ration scam. Sheikh is a close aide of former food supplies minister Jyotipriya Mallick, already arrested by the ED in connection with the same case.

According to sources, the ED officers were taken aback by the attack and had to run. They left behind their damaged vehicles and escaped in auto-rickshaws and two-wheelers. The CAPF personnel were outnumbered and fled the scene when the mob manhandled them. Later, the ED sleuths reached a riverine route and left in a police boat.

Sources said supporters of Sheikh, a local TMC leader, turned violent when the ED team tried to break open the locks of the door to go inside the house.

Explaining the events leading to the attack, an ED official said the four-member team reached Sheikh's house around 7 am. "The gates were locked from inside. We pressed the bell for 30 minutes, but there was no response. So, we decided to break in. Sheikh's followers started assembling when the CAPF personnel started breaking the locks. The crowd suddenly attacked us. One of our officers sustained a deep a head injury. We had no other option than fleeing."

The ED has filed a complaint with the local police for registration of an FIR.

Meanwhile, the TMC said the ED should have informed the police about the raid. "If they wanted secrecy, they could have informed the chief secretary," said minister Shashi Panja.

ED RAIDS FIRM LINKED TO SHARAD PAWAR'S GRAND NEPHEW ROHIT

The Enforcement Directorate on Friday searched the premises of Baramati Agro, owned by MLA Rohit Pawar, the grand nephew of NCP supremo Sharad Pawar, and linked entities as part of a money laundering probe into the alleged Maharashtra State Cooperative Bank scam. At least six locations in Baramati, Pune, Pimpri and Aurangabad, official sources said

DKS' DA case: Pleas of CBI, Yatnal referred to CJ for larger bench

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

THE legal tussle between the CBI and the state government over probe against Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar in the DA case escalated further with the central agency moving the High Court of Karnataka, challenging the legality of the orders passed by the government to withdraw the consent given to it to prosecute him and transferring the case to the Lokayukta police.

Justice Krishna S Dixit on Friday referred the petitions of the CBI and BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, questioning the legality of both the orders, to the Chief Justice for constitution of a larger bench to decide the matter, considering its enormity, which is first of its kind arising in Karnataka. The Congress government issued an order on November 28, 2023, withdrawing the consent given by the previous BJP government in 2019 to the CBI to prosecute Shivakumar. After this, the HC permitted Shivakumar to withdraw his pleas questioning the legality of the consent. Subsequently, on December 22, 2023, the Congress government issued another order entrusting the case to Lokayukta police.

Representing the CBI, advocate Prasanna Kumar contended that the order issued by the government withdrawing the consent would have no impact on the CBI's FIR as per the Supreme Court order in Kazi's case. The CBI, being the prosecuting agency, can independently challenge the action of the government. This apart, the action of the government in getting the case transferred to the Lokayukta police is without authority of law, he argued.

Echoing the CBI's views, advocate Venkatesh P Dalwai argued that the apex court has taken a view in almost similar cases that once the consent is accorded by the government, it cannot be withdrawn. Therefore, the CBI should continue its investigation and take the case to its logical conclusion.

Advocate-General Shashikiran Shetty opposed both petitions for lack of locus standi/maintainability. The third party cannot meddle with the criminal proceedings, he argued, citing an apex court judgment.

Meanwhile, the CBI's counsel submitted that the Lokayukta police may stop its investigation till the larger bench takes a decision. The AG submitted that the CBI should also stop its probe till that period. The court issued notices to the government, Lokayukta police and Shivakumar.

Cabinet nod for gratuity to unorganised sector workers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE state cabinet on Friday approved a proposal of the labour department to implement the Payment of Gratuity Act 2024 to ensure that workers in the unorganised sector enjoy the benefits of it. Revealing this to reporters here, Law Minister HK Patil said the implementation of the Act will help those working in factories, shops and other commercial and non-establishments (unorganised sector). They will get gratuity for the number of years of service in any organisation in the sector on the lines of Provident Fund facility in the organised sector.

The cabinet decided to increase the upper age limit for recruitment of gazetted probationary officers for 2023-24. The upper age limit has been relaxed from 35 to 38 for general, 38 to 41 for OBCs, and from 40 to 43 for SCs and STs.

The other decisions are: Extension of deadline by three more months to surrender wildlife trophies and items, increase the percentage of Kannada in name boards from 50 to 60 for business establishments, Rs 800 crore for white-topping of roads in BBMP limits, Rs 25 crore to upgrade infrastructure at UVCE in Bengaluru, to continue grant-in-aid for salaries of teaching and non-teaching staff of BVB Engineering College in Hubballi till 2024-25, Rs 71.38 core for data digitisation and migration support for 5,491 Primary Agricultural Credit Society (PACS), reduce the year of service from 5 to 3 for assistant registrars to promote them as deputy registrars, giving powers to invite tenders for procurement of items for hostels run by the BC department to deputy commissioners, and a grant of Rs 45.70 crore for Chamundeshwari temple in Mysuru.

The cabinet decided to exempt motor vehicle tax on BMTC, KSRTC, NWKRTC and KKRTC amounting to Rs 581.47 crore. It approved a proposal to run 10 double-decker electric buses through Gross Cost Contract (GCC) in Bengaluru.

To protect the legislators, who have been appointed as CM's advisors with cabinet rank from the threat of disqualification for holding the office of profit, the cabinet decided to implement the Karnataka Legislature (prevention of disqualification (amendment) Bill, 2024, through a government order. IISc develops clean, green cooling tech for Indian Navy

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

A team of seven scientists and researchers from Indian Institute of Science (IISc) has developed a clean green cooling technology using carbon dioxide (CO_2). But this time, the technological innovation is for the Indian Navy.

The team from the Interdisciplinary Centre for Energy Research (ICER), IISc, developed a transcritical CO_2-based refrigeration and heat pump system. The system has completed 1,300 hours of testing at Maharashtra-based naval base INS Shivaji. It will be officially inaugurated by the Navy this month.

Elaborating on the refrigeration system, the researchers at ICER, told The New Indian Express: "Current refrigeration systems use synthetic chemicals such as HFCs and HFOs for cooling. These synthetic refrigerants emit significant greenhouse gas emissions. The Navy wanted to be the first in India to introduce a green technology for cooling which is compact and best suited for its ships and submarines. It approached IISc for a unique room cooling system using CO_2, which is reliable, robust and provides stable cooling, and at the same time can also be used for heating." P9

Dost dost na raha: Dhoni duped of ₹15 cr, files criminal case

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

FORMER India captain Mahendra Singh Dhoni has lodged a criminal case at a Ranchi Civil Court, alleging that he has been duped by his ex-business partners. He alleged that his partners — Mihir Diwakar and Soumya Das of Aarka Sports and Management Limited — cheated him of ₹15 crore in the name of opening cricket academies across India and abroad.

Dhoni and Diwakar were longtime friends and played Ranji Trophy matches for Bihar and Jharkhand. Dhoni, in his complaint, alleged that Aarka Sports failed to adhere to the conditions specified in the agreement due to which he suffered a loss of ₹15 crore.

According to Dhoni's advocate Dayanand Singh, "An agreement was signed between Mihir Diwakar and Soumya Das of Aarka Sports and Management Private Limited and M S Dhoni in 2017 saying the company will open cricket academies in his name and pay him the franchisee fee. On that basis, Dhoni gave them an authority letter. The company paid the fees initially but stopped doing so later and also did not inform Dhoni about opening new academies."

Dhoni then revoked the authority given to the company on August 15, 2021. Dayanand added that despite sending a legal notice in 2022, the company continued opening academies and collecting money without Dhoni's knowledge.

Dayanand said the criminal case was heard for the first time on Friday and the next hearing is slated for January 20.

The case has been filed under Sections 406 (criminal breach of trust), 420 (cheating), 468 (forgery), 471 (fraud) and 120B (criminal conspiracy) of the Indian Penal Code.

As for Diwakar, he claimed innocence. He said he hasn't violated any agreement, adding that after Dhoni sent a notice they stopped using his name.

"I clarify that there is no dues/outstanding of MSD with me rather MSD has to pay certain amounts which has been collected from academies directly by Shri MS Dhoni," he told this daily in a statement.

Amended Act will give apartment owners more say

New Bill proposes to redress multiple issues, like transfer of common areas, taking care of accounts

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

In a bid to provide more teeth to apartment owners, the Urban Development department has proposed amending a 51-year-old Act and introducing a new piece of legislation that would result in a complete change in the way apartment associations function. Under the new proposal, resident welfare associations of apartments will have to register under local bodies and adhere to their guidelines on all matters. Earlier, power was vested with the Registrar of Cooperative Societies.

A senior official told TNIE, "At present, apartment owners can register under the Karnataka Cooperative Societies Act, 1959, or under the Companies Act as per Section 10 of the Karnataka Ownership Flats Act, 1972. We want to ensure that local bodies in a specific area in the State be given this authority. In Bengaluru, it would be the BBMP."

The proposal needs to be approved by the Legislative Assembly and Council, the official added. "The Act will solve the contentious issue on transfer of common area, take care of accounts management in apartments, lay down guidelines for land transfer and rules that promoters and flat buyers have to follow," another official said. In the absence of transfer of common areas to the association, promoters are mortgaging those parcels of land without the knowledge of the flat owners, he added.

This is the model followed for long by Maharashtra, while Odisha released a new Apartment Act in 2023, he added.

Welcoming the development, Dhananjaya Padmanabhachar of Karnataka Home Buyers' Forum said, "It is great news that the government of Karnataka is preparing a new apartment bill that is expected to resolve the challenges faced by flat owners. This is a long-pending request from apartment owners for protecting their rights in Karnataka." Illegal land mortgages and financial fraud will come to an end because land ownership will be with the association of flat owners, he added.

BBMP, revenue department issues top in Yelahanka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Minister DK Shivakumar instructed officials to clear petitions received during the 'Government at Your Doorstep' programme, within a specific time frame.

He told reporters after a public grievance redressal programme at Yelahanka Zone on Friday, "We've received about 2,600 applications. We will segregate the appeals at the ward level and set a deadline for officials to resolve the issues." The officials were directed to collect the telephone numbers of petitioners and follow up on their issues.

The officials have also been instructed to physically inspect the site and and assure the people that the government will listen to them and solve their issues. "Officials must be aware of the fact that they can't trouble the people. We must ensure that people don't have to run from pillar to post to get their issues redressed," said Shivakumar.

Asked which departments have received a high number of appeals, he said, "Most petitions are related to BBMP and the revenue department. There are a lot of cases regarding issue of khata. A lot of people have requested houses, but there is no provision to do so. There is a provision to provide housing at a discount, I will discuss with the department what best can be done. There are a lot of appeals that the penalty for property tax default is high. I will discuss with officials and do the best possible within the legal framework," he said, appealing to people not to fall prey to false promises.

A visually impaired woman who has completed BA, pleaded that she needs a house and a job. Shivakumar directed the BDA Commissioner to arrange a flat under the quota for people with disabilities. BBMP Commissioner was instructed to get a suitable job for her in the corporation.

With Article 370 gone, India no longer vulnerable, says Jaishankar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

Taking the Kashmir issue to the United Nations was a fundamental error on India's part, Western countries had a bias towards Pakistan, and if the country had been hardheaded, we would not have taken that call, Minister for External Affairs Dr S Jaishankar said here on Friday.

"We had a misreading of the world and sanctity of the UN, its impartiality and the Council being neutral arbitrators. We were taken for a ride by countries that had their geopolitical agendas set. As an issue of vulnerability, it was used against us and they continued to use it for decades. Article 370 was not just a call we had to take within the country, but had profound policy implications," he added.

Jaishankar emphasised the fact that today the country has closed "the window of vulnerability which we were foolish enough to open in 1948".

The minister was speaking at the Speakers Conclave, organised by PES University in Bengaluru during its golden jubilee celebrations. Jaishankar was in conversation with MP Tejasvi Surya, and briefly discussed his recently launched book 'Why Bharat Matters'. Touching upon why he chose Bharat and not India, Jaishankar elaborated that in the past five years, the country has become much more confident and impactful in the world. He added that by 2047, India will be the shaper of what is happening in the world. On Indians being invested in foreign policy and his chapter on 'foreign policy for you', the minister said, "A blue-collar worker in the Gulf region has no idea where to go for help, and that is what we wanted to change and build a nation from their perspective." At any given point, there are 34 million Indians and Indian-origin individuals all around the world; half of them are national and the other half are NRIs. A large number is blue-collar workers. Around 1.2 million Indian students are around the globe, pursuing education. Today, we cannot prepare for the global world without taking this into account, he asserted.

During his conversation, Jaishankar also said the "Modi-era diplomacy" is different from what was practised earlier, and this is the "new way of thinking". The policy is now to take our neighbours and make them our partners. India benefits from them and vice-versa, leaving no tensions.

At a function to launch 'Karnapex 2024', Nadoja Dr Mahesh Joshi, president of Kannada Sahitya Parishad, appealed to the postal department to release more stamps on Karnataka and its achievers. "Karnataka has a population of over 6 crore and has many stalwarts who have contributed enormously. The postal department has so far released 65 stamps. We need at least 700 stamps to honour its heroes and historic places," he said.

HC fines school for not allowing students into class

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday imposed an exemplary cost of ₹1 lakh on Brigade School in Malleswaram for disobeying the court's order and delaying allowing a girl student to attend classes and also for depriving classes to over 50 students studying in Class 9.

Expressing serious anguish over asking students' parents to sign an undertaking to allow their wards to attend classes, the division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Krishna S Dixit directed the school to pay ₹1 lakh to the CM relief fund within two weeks. "Schools should not attempt to play with the future of children and create tense situations for their parents. Loss of days cannot be compensated in terms of money and compensation of any amount may not serve the purpose," it said.

It passed the order, disposing of a contempt petition filed by the father of the Class 9 student for disobeying the court's order passed on the petition filed by him questioning the communication issued by the school to him for payment of Rs 10,000 even before the conclusion of an inquiry, alleging that his daughter had indulged in behaviour that go against the ethos of the school.

After hearing the plea, the court last month directed the school to allow the petitioner's daughter to attend academic activities. Despite the order was communicated through email the next day, the school did not allow her to attend classes till December 14. It stated that it had received the order only on December 14. Therefore, her father filed a contempt petition.

Taking exception to the language used by the school principal in the affidavit filed in the contempt plea, the court underlined the importance of studies in Class 9, saying that it is the foundation for Class 10. Brigade School created a situation by subjecting both the students and their parents to tension, anxiety and uncertainty, the court stated. The advocate representing the school assured the court that there would be no hindrance to children attending school. Compensatory classes and tests would be conducted for those who were not allowed to the classes to avoid possible inconvenience to them.

06TH January: Time is a funny thing. We experience one moment after the next in a logical sequence, but most cultures have a theory that all times, past, present and future, exist simultaneously, and we only think they are separate because we don't truly understand the real nature of the universe!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
A cursory glance at what other people are doing should reveal a wonderful range of interests and activities. There may also be something you can join in with that has so far slipped your notice, and it may perhaps add a new dimension to the quality of your life.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You ought to be thinking and planning ahead, taking advantage of improving social contacts. By the best estimate you have about another two weeks to develop an important new friendship, but you shouldn't leave it too long. Somebody is waiting to hear from you.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
What the planets give with one hand they can take away with the other, metaphorically speaking, of course! Mars is withholding its full power from your sign, and still you must soldier on alone. I don't think anyone should complain if you lay burdens or responsibilities to one side and put your feet up.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You may make it clear that as far as personal relationships are concerned you are determined to break with the past in one important respect: in future other people are going to have to listen to you. However, if they feel that they are already paying you too much attention, you could have a problem!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
If you still can't see the light at the end of the tunnel, it's because you're walking around looking at the ground. Raise your sights to the stars and you'll realise that there is no burden or care so great as to detract from the joy that comes with genuine love.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
In one particular area of your chart the stars are looking buoyant and creative, but in another they're decidedly sober and serious. Perhaps that means you'll be able to span the complete range of human experience. You might even soon try out activities that you'd always thought were not for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
A current altera-tion in your fin-ancial situation could be the harbinger of big things to come. You may indulge yourself in petty extravagances while you can, and formulate careful plans for all domes-tic investments and prop-erty deals. Sometimes petty details can seem to be a distraction, but you won't get very far unless you tackle them head on.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Not everyone is feeling happy about current developments. Partners and close associates may still be out of sorts, but the general situation looks rather encouraging. If you concentrate on one-to-one encounters and intimate liaisons you may enjoy yourself rather more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
If there's been a financial altercation, you should now get off your high horse and prove how forgiving and magnanimous you can be. Your lunar alignments for the day favour quiet family gatherings and pleasant domestic routine. Other people may expect you to take responsibility, though.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's no wonder you are hard-pressed to fulfil all your commitments in view of the sheer number of irons you've got in the fire. You may begin with careful thought and move on to consider any duties that may quietly be dropped. But don't leave anyone in the lurch.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Financial circumstances should go some way towards restoring your faith in human nature. You are naturally generous and it seems that now is the right time to spread a little largesse amongst family and friends. You'd better keep something back for yourself, though.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You are a great deal smarter and more intelligent than certain people realise. It's just that they don't understand how you operate. Now you should put partners' irrelevant opinions and advice to one side and follow your intuitions completely. For safety's sake, always keep a back-up plan.

Youth attempts suicide in front of Metro train

Second time this week, train ops impacted during peak hours due to commuter act

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A 23-year-old youth tried to end his life by jumping in front of a train approaching the Jalahalli Metro station (which is two stops from the terminus station Nagasandra) on the Metro's Green Line at 7.12 pm on Friday. As a result, he suffered head injuries and burns on his chest, and is currently in hospital. Train operations came to a standstill for 48 minutes during the evening peak hour on the stretch between Nagasandra and Yeshwanthpur.

The youth, identified as Saron S, is employed as a CNC operator at an automotive firm in Abbigere and is a native of Alappuzha district in Kerala.

According to a Metro source, the youth jumped from Platform 2 in front of an arriving train. "He hit the train and fell between the track and the third rail, which is fully charged and supplies 750 Volts of electricity to run trains," he said, adding that a Metro staffer at the station switched off the power supply system immediately, while others rescued him.

A statement from the DCP (North) said Saron suffered a head injury and was taken to Saptagiri Hospital in Jalahalli.

An official release from the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited said, "Due to the above incident, four trains were held up at other station platforms and all the commuters were evacuated from the trains. The operations of the Green Line were on between Yeshwanthpur and Silk Institute Metro stations during the period. Normalcy on the entire Green Line was restored at 8 pm."

This is the second such incident within a week when a commuter's act brought Metro train operations to a halt. Last Monday evening, a woman jumped onto the tracks to retrieve her fallen mobile phone and brought the Purple Line operations to a halt during the evening peak hours.

Meanwhile, transportation experts have reiterated the need to have platform screen doors at all stations to prevent anyone entering the track area.

ONE DEATH WAS DUE TO COVID-RELATED ISSUES

The minister said that though 20 deaths have been recorded due to Covid-19, the Death Audit Committee's report revealed that only one death was due to Covid-related complications. "The committee has studied 10 cases and opined that out of 10, one death was caused by Covid-19, while the other nine deaths were due to other health problems though the deceased persons were infected with the virus," he said.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

HEALTH Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao on Friday said hospitals have been instructed to compulsorily check all patients with Influenza-Like Illness (ILI) and Severe Acute Respiratory Infection (SARI) for traces of Covid-19. Further, he stated that it is expected that Karnataka may witness a downward trend of Covid cases in the next week.

Speaking to reporters after holding a meeting with the officials of the Health Department here on Friday, the minister said both government and private hospitals have been instructed to test patients, especially adults, with ILI and SARI for Covid-19. "Earlier, one in 20 such cases were tested for Covid-19. Hospitals have been asked to mandatorily subject all such cases to Covid-19 tests henceforth," he added.

He stressed that more than 7,000 tests were being conducted in the state daily. "In neighbouring Kerala, the cases are already seeing a downward trend. However, the case is not the same in Karnataka. It is expected that the state may also witness a downtrend trend by next week," he said, adding that the condition of those under home isolation is being closely monitored.

Further, the minister said the Corona Helpline will be launched on Saturday.

Millets in dishes at Indira Canteens and mid-day meals: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah announced the use of millets in dishes served at Indira Canteen and mid-day meals in schools.

Speaking after inaugurating the three-day Millets and Organic International Trade Fair 2024 organized by the Department of Agriculture here on Friday, Siddaramaiah said, "A meeting involving officials concerned will be convened soon to discuss and decide on the use of millets in Indira Canteens, anganwadis and mid-day meals so that people and school children of the State can become more healthy and strong."

The CM assured that the State government will set up a centre for the promotion of millet crops to facilitate the production of high-quality millet seeds, development of new varieties and the export of millets.

Millets can be grown even in places where rainfall is scarce and fertility is poor. They support good health, which is why the State government is continuously organizing millet fairs, he said. The CM further stated that Organic Agriculture Policy-2004 and Revised Organic Agriculture Policy-2014 were implemented in the State and the government is continuously encouraging the growth of organic and millet crops. Agriculture Minister N Cheluvarayaswamy said the government will relaunch 'Krishi Bhagya' and allocate Rs 25 crore assistance for farmers to grow millets and organic crops. He also stated that 32,000 farm ponds will be built. "This will cost Rs 200 crore, of which Rs 100 crore has been sanctioned by Revenue Minister Krishna Byregowda."

"There are 400 stalls and 16 states will be participating in the mela. To attract youths towards organic farming, the government will also give Rs 5 lakh interest-free loans," said the minister.

Police submit Mall of Asia traffic regulation plan to HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE city police submitted the outcome of deliberations held to address various issues pertaining to Phoenix Mall of Asia, mainly traffic congestion and noise pollution, to the High Court of Karnataka on Friday.

The mutually-agreed short-term and long-term solutions to be implemented were part of the deliberations held between city police and Sparkle One Mall Developers Pvt (Ltd) (SOPL) which runs the mall in Byatarayanapura in the city.

Justice M Nagaprasanna adjourned the hearing of the petition filed by SOPL to January 30, with a direction to stakeholders to cooperate and implement mutually agreed solutions, while extending the interim order passed on the last date of hearing -- that police not take precipitative action against the mall -- till the next date of hearing.

In the four meetings chaired by City Police Commissioner B Dayananda, the traffic circulation plan was discussed with the mall and it was agreed to implement it on a trial basis.

The National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) authorities pointed out that the service road is currently designed for 10 msa (Million Standard Axle). However, to accommodate the current traffic load, it would require more than 50 msa. The mall developers have to maintain the portion of the service road in front of the mall and provide road signage, as per approved plan.

It was also found that the noise levels exceeded the stipulated standards, and the mall was directed to implement necessary measures to reduce the same. It was also noticed during inspection that several two-wheelers were not parking inside the mall premises due to high parking charges and had wrongly parked on the adjacent road leading to Gate 3.

SOLUTIONS MUTUALLY AGREED UPON, TO BE IMPLEMENTED

SHORT-TERM SOLUTIONS	LONG-TERM SOLUTIONS
Reduce 2-wheeler parking charges by Jan 7	SOPL to undertake to alter blowers/exhaust fans to reduce noise pollution below the permissible limit by April 30
Changing cab & auto pickup and drop points by Jan 13	NHAI and BBMP to chalk out a comprehensive plan to create a ramp or vehicle underpass for development projects, within the vicinity of mall
Moving vehicles to check point from entry gates, to nearest ramp by Jan 13	Budget and contribution of ramp/underpass to be decided based on mutual discussions between local authorities and private developers
Traffic circulation plan to be implemented on experimental basis by Jan 13	SOPL to explore possibility of finding additional parking space nearby in consultation with local authorities
Assisting in creating pre-fixed auto stand by Jan 31

Museum, planetarium receive hoax bomb threats

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

VISVESVARAYA Industrial and Technological Museum on Kasturba Road, Jawaharlal Nehru Planetarium on Sankey Road, and National Gallery of Modern Art in Vasanthanagar received emails on Friday morning, containing bomb threats. The accused claimed to be from a terrorist organisation, called "Terrorizers 111". However, the threats proved to be a hoax, after a thorough search was conducted of the three premises.

Upon receiving the dubious emails, the police control room was alerted, after which bomb squads, dog squads and police teams searched the premises of the three landmark locations till the afternoon, and later declared it all to be a hoax, reiterating that no suspicious objects were found.

"The email threats were declared a hoax after a thorough search by the police and the bomb detection squad. The jurisdictional Cubbon Park police, High Grounds police and Vidhana Soudha police have registered cases in this regard. The emails were sent to the websites of the three venues," said DCP (Central) HT Shekhar.

"The bomb threat email was sent from the ID 'Morgue999lol', claiming to be from Terrorizers 111 terror organisation. Investigations are on to find out the source of the emails. Three separate FIRs have been registered," said an officer.

SENIOR CABINET MINISTERS MEET, SEEK MORE DyCM POSTS

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

A group of six senior Karnataka ministers has decided to meet the Congress high command to demand more deputy chief ministers ahead of the Lok Sabha polls.

Ministers Dr G Parameshwara, Dr HC Mahadevappa, KH Muniyappa, Dinesh Gundu Rao and KN Rajanna met over dinner for over an hour at cabinet colleague Satish Jarkiholi's residence on Thursday and deliberated on the need for more DyCMs. Both Parameshwara and Satish are in the race for the DyCM post.

"We held discussions on various issues and will reveal them at an appropriate time. We have decided to approach the high command. We will meet AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala once he returns to India from the US," Cooperation Minister Rajanna said at Vidhana Soudha on Friday.

Rajanna said they have the right to express their opinion on the need for more DyCMs representing different communities as it will help the Congress in the ensuing LS polls. "But we will abide by the decision of the top brass," he added.

Home Minister Dr Parameshwara said they discussed the promises made by the Congress to SCs/STs in a rally ahead of the May 10 Assembly polls which need to be implemented now. He, however, did not divulge more details saying it was a confidential meeting.

According to informed sources, Muniyappa, who is also in the race for the DyCM post under the SC quota, has suggested the implementation of the Justice AJ Sadashiva commission's recommendations for classification of SC quota. Muniyappa had met AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge in New Delhi on Thursday evening.

The ministers, who are identified with the Siddaramaiah camp, also concluded that they should back the chief minister to accept the socio-economic survey (caste census) carried out by the Karnataka Backward Classes Commission.

A couple of months ago, Siddaramaiah met Parameshwara at the latter's residence along with his supporters Satish and Mahadevappa after Shivakumar's supporters raised the DyCM issue.

MOVE WILL BENEFIT CONG IN LS POLLS: SATISH

BELAGAVI: While stating that it would be suitable to have more deputy chief ministers so as to give priority to different communities, Public Works Department Minister Satish Jarkiholi has said that the Congress would benefit in the upcoming Lok Sabha elections if equal importance is given to all the communities to meet their expectations. Speaking to the media after meeting party leaders at his residence in Bengaluru on Friday, Satish said the meeting discussed the need to have DyCMs belonging to Backward Classes and Minorities. Satish, however, said it was the prerogative of the Congress high command to take a final call. Satish said no discussions were held on the need for a Dalit CM in the state. He said discussions were held about the convention of oppressed sections at Chitradurga on January 28 and the SCs/STs meet in Davanagere in February.

State losing ₹45K cr as its share of GST collection, says Byre Gowda

Govt sets up 3-member cell to argue its case before 16th Fin Commission, Centre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state cabinet on Friday decided to set up a three-member technical advisory cell to effectively argue the state's case before the 16th Finance Commission and the Centre, as the state has been losing its share of taxes of over Rs 45,000 crore annually.

The cell will be constituted at the Fiscal Policy Institute with former member of the finance commission Govinda Rao, experts M Srinivas Murthy MR and Narendrapani as its members.

The Centre has converted the tax component on petrol and diesel as cess and surcharge, causing a loss of about Rs 8,200 crore. Another Rs 25,000-30,000 crore is lost because of the implementation of GST. The Centre has also not released Rs 11,495 crore as one-time relief though recommended by the 15th Finance Commission. "It has affected the state's financial health and we will argue our case to establish our right to get the share due to the state," Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda told the media.

The state is the second-biggest tax payer and is estimated to contribute Rs 4 lakh crore through various taxes, but gets Rs 65,000-70,000 crore as grants from the Centre, he added. The IT-BT sector contributes Rs 3.5 lakh crore annually to foreign exchange. "Though IT/BT exports have not been earning revenues for the state, their contribution to per capita income growth has not been taken into account by the Centre," he said.

> Though IT/BT exports have not been earning revenues for the state, their contribution to per capita income growth has not been taken into account by the Centre
>
> Krishna Byre Gowda, Revenue Minister

During the 14th Finance Commission, the state got 4.71 per cent of its share, but it has reduced to 3.64 per cent, causing a loss of Rs 14,000 crore, he elaborated.

The 15 Finance Commission had recommended 41 per cent of returns to the state through devolution, but in reality 30 per cent was given, he said. "The Centre has continued consumer taxes on petrol and diesel, but converted them into cess and surcharge to keep 95 per cent to itself by not showing it in the tax divisible pool," he alleged.

"Before GST was implemented, the growth rate was between 13 and 16 per cent and GST loss compensation to states ended in June 2022. The states like us with 14 per cent growth losing out Rs 25,000-30,000 crore," he remarked.

He criticised the Centre for taking the 1971 population into account to consider the quantum of grants. The states that have not implemented family planning gained, while states like Karnataka lost out, he added.

TECH WILL DRIVE LEARNING OF STUDENTS, TEACHERS

ASHOK KAMATH
Chairman of Akshara Foundation

STARTING Point 2024

GOOD education for millions of our children, especially in primary and higher secondary levels, has been a cause of concern for all. Several research surveys and dipstick analyses have shown poor learning outcomes of our children. We have to be optimistic that things will turn around and I for one, after having met and talked to several hundreds of various stakeholders, see a lot of interesting things that will happen in the coming calendar year and beyond.

It should not be a surprise that the Covid pandemic has taught us all a few lessons that can be applied for good. I believe that people have started to believe in the adage, 'It takes a village to educate a child' and these are the stakeholders who have started to make positive contributions to the education of our children. So what do I think will happen as we look forward?

More access to good content (for teachers and students alike)

Both children and teachers will have access to more good content because of the creation of the Diksha platform which hosts content in several state language(s). Many players. including my own organisation Akshara Foundation, have shared their content on this platform.

For example, at Akshara Foundation we make our content freely available and in multiple languages. The teachers get to use teacher training content as audio-video modules and in byte-sized formats so that they can refresh themselves on specific topics before they head to the classroom. For children, there are numerous apps like Akshara's Building Blocks which make learning joyful and help the child acquire and retain conceptual clarity.

All of this is in public domain and the emergence of a Creative Commons framework of licensing and usage will make a big difference to the availability of content. Thank you Lawrence Lessig and Eric Eldred for pioneering this concept. As we go forward teachers who felt handicapped because of lack of adequate training will have training available electronically on-demand and this will increase their effectiveness in classrooms.

Increased stakeholder involvement

I can see that more stakeholders in the communities, like parents and other community members, elected representatives at the local level, School Development Management Committee members and others who when presented with data on their children's learning outcomes are more than willing to invest their time and resources in ensuring a better future for their children. At Akshara Foundation, we specifically have the experience of facilitating Gram Panchayat level maths contests where participation has been very good.

Local volunteers to keep it going

Young people in rural communities have a well-developed sense of giving back to their local communities in a practical manner and it is this youth that forms the backbone of sustainability of any initiative that is introduced in villages. During Covid times, they managed to convince people in rural communities to take their vaccine doses. These youth become a vibrant force and a voice for better education.

Blended learning will be a driving force

Technology will play a more significant role as we go forward. With the increasing availability of smartphones among rural populace, and with the key smartphone user willing to share time on the smartphone with the children, we can see that a large number of children will start to supplement their classroom instructions with content available on the Internet. An innovation using the Diksha platform (digital infrastructure for knowledge sharing) and school textbooks has become useful for children to expand or solidify their learning. Textbooks have QR codes printed in each chapter which, when scanned, takes the student to good content on Diksha and this serves as the perfect supplement to classroom instruction. In the near future, a combination of Teacher+Technology which I would like to call Blended Learning will make its way more into classrooms and in student learning trajectories.

All these trends need to be suitably recognised by all and I strongly believe that the media has a big role in bringing visibility to these issues in a positive manner. Transforming education in the 21st century will be challenging but will also provide opportunities for innovation and advanced technology, which, in turn, will motivate and equip teachers better.

Dr G: Congress not anti-Hindu, majority elected us to power

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

HOME Minister G Parameshwara on Friday asked why BJP is terming Congress anti-hindu, when a majority of people in Karnataka, who are Hindus, have elected the party to power. He was firm on the government not suspending the inspector who detained Srikant Poojari as he had not violated any law. "Poojari has 16 cases against him and the police are only their duty," he added.

He said the issue should not be politicised as the arrest is not against the law.

When media persons pointed to BJP's demand for the suspension of the police officer who detained Poojari, he said, "Why should we? He has not done anything against the law." But at the same time, BJP followers laid siege to the police station.

On posting husband and wife in the police department in the same area, he said the Karnataka Civil Service Rules and other rules say a couple should be posted in the same district. "I have directed the DGP to implement it," he said.

Ashoka lambasts Siddu, says he's lost control of administration, should quit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

ASSEMBLY Opposition Leader R Ashoka on Friday said Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has to resign on moral grounds for lying on the arrest of kar sevak Srikant Poojari. At a protest organised by BJP in Bengaluru, he said, "The CM has either lost control over the administration or unseen forces are misleading him. It appears the case has been deliberately revived to provoke Hindu activists during the inauguration of Ram temple. This means Siddaramaiah has lost the moral authority to continue as CM. He should immediately admit his mistake and release Poojari. He should also apologise to the people of the state and resign."

On Siddaramaiah's claim that Poojari faced 16 cases, Ashoka said 15 of those cases have already reached their logical end, and there is only one pending case against him.

"The Congress government is casting a dark shadow during the inauguration of Ram temple to please Rahul and Sonia Gandhi. Not just Hubballi, it is happening in Chikkamagaluru, Kalaburagi and other places. The enthusiasm of Ram bhakts at processions have made Congress leaders nervous. Let the government arrest us," Ashoka added.

Pepped up by ground reports, JDS may pitch for 4-5 seats in Old Mysuru

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

WHILE the Congress and BJP are engaged in an acrimonious verbal battle over the Ram Mandir issue and arrest of karsevaks, state JDS chief H D Kumaraswamy is quietly gearing up for the polls. Notwithstanding the party's poor performance in the Assembly polls, JDS has conducted an internal survey, enthused by survey reports which say the party could demand four to five seats for the Lok Sabha election, from its alliance partner BJP.

Seat-sharing talks are likely to resume after Sankranti and the inauguration of the Ram temple at Ayodhya, for which former PM HD Deve Gowda is also invited. JDS may pitch for Tumakuru, Kolar and Mysuru seats, apart from the expected seats of Hassan, Mandya and Chikkaballapura, as the ground reports are encouraging.

However, sitting BJP MPs Pratap Simha (Mysuru-Kodagu) and Muniswamy (Kolar) are confident that their party will field them. JDS, that has a lone member in the present Lok Sabha and whose patriarch Deve Gowda lost in Tumakuru, besides Nikhil Kumaraswamy's defeat in Mandya, is reworking its poll strategy and is likely to go by survey findings and feedback from the grassroots.

Sources said JDS leaders will bargain for seats in Old Mysuru, as they had managed to bag a poll percentage of 32.18 (20,79,498 votes) against the BJP's 22.98& (14,85,142 votes) in Mysuru, Tumkauru, Mandya, Hassan and Kodagu. JDS also got 6,05,791 votes against BJP's 4,94,898 votes in Kolar and Chikkaballapur districts.

District units of Mandya, Chikkaballapur and Tumakuru are also prevailing on Kumaraswamy to contest from these seats so they can get a definite win and increase their tally in the Lok Sabha. The survey also focused on caste equations, the strength of their base, mood of the people and impact of guarantee factors.

Though a few leaders were initially not happy with BJP-JDS alliance, coordination has improved over a month as the parties are working in tandem both inside and outside Vidhana Soudha. Leaders are confident that the working relationship will improve once seat-sharing is finalised, and the focus will turn to transfer of votes between the parties.

HDK accuses Siddu of conspiring against MP

Bengaluru: Karnataka JDS chief HD Kumaraswamy backed Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, whose brother was arrested for allegedly cutting trees without permission. The State Government is targeting Opposition with an intention to win the Lok Sabha polls, he told reporters. He accused CM Siddaramaiah of conspiring against Simha in an attempt to ensure he would not get BJP ticket to contest LS polls. The former CM said BJP MP's brother Vikram Simha, who had taken the land on lease to grow ginger, was not responsible for chopping the trees. He took the land on lease and the lease period will start from 2024. "What was the reason for suspending five forest officials?" he said. He accused the CM of conspiring against Simha and said the CM's phone call records would give all the details. ENS

DEVE GOWDA URGES CM TO RECOVER LAND FROM NICE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FORMER Prime Minister and JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda urged the State Government to take over the Bengaluru-Mysuru Infrastructure Project (BMIC) from NICE and recover 13,404 acres.

Speaking to reporters on Friday, the former PM said he had written to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah asking him to take over the project, but the latter has not taken any action.

"I do not know what is his (Siddaramaiah) difficulty. He talks about the poor, but fails to take action when poor farmers' land was taken for the project," Gowda said. If Siddaramaiah fails to take action in that regard it will remain as a black spot on his political career, he said, adding that he had written to the CM in October last year explaining the need to take over the project.

The former PM said a House Committee headed by former law minister TB Jayachandra had also given a report asking the government to recover the land worth over Rs 7,000 crore. Gowda said the JDS will continue to fight for the poor farmers.

The former PM hit out at Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar. People of the state know how much money has gone from the state for the recent Assembly polls in other states, Gowda said.

He accused the Congress government of resorting to vendetta politics by reopening old cases against Srikant Pujari, a karsevak in Hubballi. "As NDA partners, we are free to express our views on the issue. We are determined to defeat Congress in Karnataka. Congress era will end in the state under the leadership of Siddaramaiah and DK Shivakumar," he added.

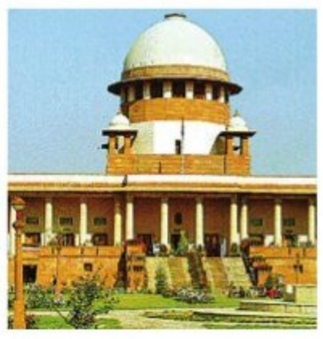
Guv has to act on recommendation of ministers: SC

Tamil Nadu Governor Ravi had in June 2023 'dismissed' Senthil from the ministry

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ Chennai

THE governor of a state has to act on the recommendation of the council of ministers, the Supreme Court said on Friday while dismissing an appeal challenging the decision of the Madras High Court to reject a petition filed against continuance of V Senthil Balaji as a minister in the DMK cabinet.

A bench of Justices Abhay S Oka and Ujjal Bhuyan said, "Prima facie, the high court is right that the governor could not have dismissed the minister. The governor has to act on the recommendation of the council of ministers..."



ML Ravi, a lawyer and social activist, had moved the apex court against the order of the Madras High Court refusing to issue a direction on his petition for quashing Tamil Nadu Governor R N Ravi's order keeping in abeyance his earlier order to sack Balaji from the ministry. The HC had rejected that petition saying that there is no merit in his prayer.

"After having heard the petitioner in person and perusing the impugned judgment of the high court, we concur with the view taken by the HC. Therefore no interference is called for under Article 136 of the Constitution," the bench said. Article 136 refers to the discretionary powers of the Supreme Court to allow special leave petitions.

Governor RN Ravi, who has been locked in intermittent tussles with the DMK government, had in June 2023 "dismissed" Balaji from the council of ministers "with immediate effect". But as his action drew strong criticism, he informed Chief Minister MK Stalin that he wanted to keep his decision in abeyance.

While referring to the governor's discretionary powers in such matters, the high court had said, "If the governor chooses to 'withdraw his pleasure' in respect of a minister, he must exercise his discretion with the knowledge of the CM and not unilaterally. In the present case, the Chief Minister had never consented for the exercise of the discretionary power by the governor." On the petitioner's submissions about Balaji's disqualification, the HC had said in the absence of any statutory disqualification incurred by him, it would not be permissible for the court to issue directions to the governor to take a decision in a particular manner. "Moreover, it would also be a matter of debate as to whether the governor can unilaterally disqualify a person officiating as a minister, though he has not incurred any disqualification under the Constitution of India or under any statute," the HC had said.

Balaji was arrested by the ED last year in a money laundering case. He was accused of being involved in a cash-for-jobs scam during his tenure as transport minister in the AIADMK-led government between 2011 and 2015. Later he had joined the DMK and became a minister in 2021.

Prima facie, the high court is right that the governor could not have dismissed the minister. The governor has to act on the recommendation of the council of ministers...

After 126 days, Aditya-L1 to be placed in halo orbit

PURAN CHOUDHARY @ Bengaluru

AFTER travelling for more than 126 days, the Aditya-L1 satellite, India's first observatory to study the Sun, will be finally placed in its designated orbit around 6pm Saturday. Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) scientists will be performing the crucial manoeuvre of placing the satellite in the halo orbit at Lagrange Point 1 (L1) for the first time.

The spacecraft was launched on September 2, 2023, from the Satish Dhawan Space Centre (SDSC) in Sriharikota. The mission has been in the works for about three years, and in discussion since 2008. Aditya-L1 has been developed indigenously by ISRO and is expected to have a life of five years, however, scientists added that it can go beyond that.

The satellite will be placed in a halo orbit of the Sun-Earth system, which is about 1.5 million km from the Earth, and Aditya-L1 would have covered only one per cent of the distance to the Sun. Scientists said that Aditya-L1 is healthy and performing well. Placing the satellite in a halo orbit around the L1 point will have the major advantage of continuously viewing the Sun without any occultation or eclipses.

This mission will observe the solar atmosphere, mainly the chromosphere and corona, the outermost layers of the Sun, and use several payloads to record the local environment at L1. There are a total of seven payloads on-board, with four of them carrying out remote sensing of the Sun and three carrying out observational experiments. Scientists said the study of the Sun will warn about solar storms and protect Indian satellites and communication networks from being disrupted due to solar flares and solar storms.

As per media reports, India has Rs 50,000 crore in space assets, including 50 operational satellites.

Unruly bike rider threatens, abuses woman IPS officer in full public view

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

A 41-year-old woman IPS officer was threatened and abused by a motorist in a road rage incident that escalated on Tumakuru main road.

The accused, reportedly speeding, rammed into the government vehicle of the IPS officer near Goraguntepalya Junction. The officer asked the driver to park the vehicle on the roadside and to check the damage. The accused started shouting at the officer's driver. The officer who was in the vehicle got down and came in defence of her driver. The accused started abusing the officer in filthy language and threatened her.

The traffic police personnel manning the junction rushed to the spot, but they too were abused by the rider. Later, the accused along with his bike was brought to the jurisdictional RMC Yard police station. The IPS officer filed a criminal case.

The officer, Dr VJ Shobha Rani, works as SP in Bangalore Metropolitan Task Force on the premises of the BBMP Head Office. The incident happened on Wednesday between 10.30 am and 11 am. The complaint has been filed against G Abhishek, 22, a resident of Sapthagiri Layout in Chikkabanavara.

The officer was going to her office from her house in a government SUV. The youth who came riding from behind rammed into her vehicle. Claiming to be the son of a reputed chartered accountant, he started threatening and abusing the officer. He also told her that his father is influential and well connected.

"After the accused was arrested, he was produced before the jurisdictional court where he was granted bail," said an officer part of investigations.

A case of word, gesture or act intended to insult the modesty of a woman (IPC 509), intentional insult with intent to provoke breach of the peace (IPC 504) and assault or criminal force to deter public servant from discharge of duty (IPC 353) has been registered against the accused. Further investigations are on.

Forest logging, climate change take a toll on birds: Study

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

RESEARCHERS at the IISc studied the effects of forest logging and climate change on bird species in tropical mountains by examining over 10 years of data.

The team used mist netting and bird ringing data to answer how the composition of the mid-elevation Eastern Himalayan understorey bird community changed in undisturbed forests and wood-cutting forests.

Tropical montane forests are unique ecosystems that can start at around 200 metres and reach up to 3,500 metres high up on mountains around the world. They are critical centres of biodiversity. Forest loss and climate change present major threats to these ecosystems. "Birds and much of the flora and fauna of tropical mountain ranges are extremely temperature-sensitive and are responding to global heating rapidly. Also, most of the world's terrestrial biodiversity is concentrated in tropical mountains," said Umesh Srinivasan, assistant professor, Centre for Ecological Sciences (CES), IISc, and corresponding author of the study.

The report published in Global Ecology and Conservation collected data from the Eaglenest Wildlife Sanctuary, Arunachal Pradesh, situated in the biodiversity hotspot of Eastern Himalayas and home to over 500 bird species. The area saw intensive logging until 2002. The study highlighted that many bird species have started shifting to higher elevations due to rising temperatures. Logged forests have higher average temperatures and lower humidity than primary forests, which is hastening the transition. Birds that are smaller in size are colonising these logged forests better because they can tolerate higher temperatures, while the density of larger bird species appears to be increasing in the untouched forests.

Every day after setting up the mist nets, the team checked them every 20-30 minutes, weighed and labelled the birds, and released them immediately. "Of the 6,189 captured individuals from 130 species, the final analysis included 4,801 understorey insect-eating birds that live under the canopy of large trees – belonging to about 61 species," the researchers said. They focused on these birds because their niches are well defined and abundant data from the mist nets is available for them.

The study showed that logging can lead to the loss of large-bodied, old growth-dependent species, and decrease the overall biodiversity.

K'taka releases ₹105 crore as compensation to farmers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government on Friday released Rs 105 crore under the State Disaster Response Fund (SDRF) to give Rs 2,000 compensation to farmers in drought-hit taluks of the state.

The GO issued on Friday stated that the state government is giving Rs 2,000 compensation in the first phase as the state is yet to get financial assistance from the Centre under NDRF. Eligible farmers will get compensation as per SDRF norms after the Centre releases funds under the NDRF, the GO stated. As many as 223 out of 236 taluks in the state are declared drought-hit.

Meanwhile, former chief minister Basavaraj Bommai sought to know from Chief Minister Siddaramaiah as to why he took six months to release just Rs 105 crore towards drought relief to farmers. The CM declared 223 taluks as drought-hit but only giving Rs 2,000 per hectare as compensation, he added.

During the previous BJP regime, Rs 2,031 crore was credited into the bank accounts of 14.63 lakh farmers towards crop damage on 13.09 lakh hectares within two months of the flood havoc, he said.

Identity mix-up of explosion victims at hospital leaves families in despair

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bhubaneswar

TWENTY-two-year-old Arpita Mallick was left inconsolable after she was informed on Thursday night, that her husband Jyoti Ranjan Mallick (24), injured in an explosion in Hi-Tech Hospital and stated to be alive, had actually succumbed on December 31, 2023 itself.

The chaos erupted when four members of the of Jagannath Refrigeration staff - Jyoti Ranjan Mallick of Brahman Sailo village, Cuttack district, Dilip Samantaray (34) of Harirajpur in Jatni, Sritam Sahoo and Seemanchal Biswal sustained serious injuries due to an explosion while filling gas in the AC compressors on the terrace of Hi-tech Hospital on December 29.

In a major goof-up, the identities of Jyoti and Dilip were interchanged in the hospital records before their treatment. Surprisingly, neither of the family members were able to identify them, as the two of them had suffered facial burn injuries. But, Jyoti had sustained more than 80 per cent burn injuries in the incident. Jyoti's wife met an unconscious Dilip assuming him as her husband.

Confusion leads to death of Dilip's wife

Though Jyoti succumbed on December 31, Hi-Tech authorities and police announced the deceased's name as Dilip. Unable to cope-up with the loss, Dilip's wife, a 24-year-old woman, allegedly committed suicide at her father's house on Monday.

Similarly, Dilip's family members visited Jyoti without realizing that their identities had been mistakenly altered during the sloppy verification process. Though Jyoti succumbed on December 31, Hi-Tech authorities and police announced the deceased's name as Dilip. Unable to cope-up with the loss, Dilip's wife, a 24-year-old woman, allegedly committed suicide at her father's house on Monday.

The shocking details about the identity mix-up emerged when Dilip was taken off ventilator on Thursday evening and he looked for his wife and family members. The blunder not only shook Dilip's life but also left Jyoti Ranjan's wife devastated as she could not see her husband even for one last time. Jyoti's last rites were performed by Dilip's family members.

14 summoned for damaging Datta tomb

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chikkamagaluru

DATTA Peeta issue has come to the fore once again with the court issuing summons to the fourteen Hindu activists, who are accused of vandalising the Muslim tomb in the Datta Peeta premises, during the Datta Jayanthi celebration in 2017.

In this connection, the rural police had submitted charge sheet to the Court on Dec 6, 2023, and the court in turn has served summons on the fourteen accused. Then SP had registered a suo motto case against the Hindu activists.

It is said that charge sheet was not submitted to the court then, and the present government has granted permission to the police to present the charge sheet to the court after a gap of 6 years.

The accused are Tudukuru Manju, Shivaraj, Sandesh, Sumanth, Nagendra Poojary, Mohan, Ashok, Thejesh, Srinath, Lokesh, Mahendra, Sandeep, Ramu. All the accused are asked to appear in the court on January 8.

Bar Council president Sudhakar said that the then BJP government had withdrawn the case but it did not come before the court as charge sheet was not submitted.

Charge sheet should not on any account be kept by the police for more than one or two years, but the rural police have submitted the charge sheet after 6 years. This is a fault on the part of the police. And it will be questioned in the upper court ' he mentioned. Former MLA CT Ravi has challenged the government to reopen cases related to PFI.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has reiterated that order to reinvestigate the 2017 case of tomb damage, in the Datta Peeta premises is false.

The government has granted permission on September 7, 2023 on the basis of appeal made to the government for the inquiry on March 19, 2020. Legal process has been initiated as its continued part. It is a natural legal process' he clarified.

DEBATE AND DISCUSS LAWS MORE THOROUGHLY IN 2024 AND BEYOND

THE year opened with a massive strike by truckers in the north and west of the country. They were protesting the provision in the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, the redrafted penal code, which would treat hit-and-run cases as an aggravated form of offence. Section 106 (2) of the new law calls for a prison term of up to 10 years in such cases. People and the government panicked when petrol stations went unfilled and food prices started soaring. The government took a step back and said it would enact the provision only after consulting with the All India Motor Transport Congress. Now, it is true that India suffers from one of the highest rates of traffic accidents in the world. The National Crime Records Bureau reported that 4,72,467 traffic accidents across the country in 2022 resulted in 1,94,347 deaths and injuries to 4,25,727 persons. The government is well within its rights to come up with a penal deterrent.

What is in question is the enact-first-discuss-later approach to legislation. This was not the first time in recent years a law was passed with inadequate consultation and scrutiny. A study published after the winter session showed that half the bills passed by the 17th Lok Sabha were discussed for less than two hours each. The share of bills referred to parliamentary committees has fallen from 71 percent in the 15th Lok Sabha to 25 percent and 16 percent during the 16th and 17th Lok Sabhas. A government using its majority to speed up the legislative process would be laudable if the laws stood the test of time. The hastily-implemented GST Act of 2017 has seen 129 amendments and 741 notifications in the last five years.

The pre-legislative consultation policy drafted by the Committee of Secretaries in January 2014 calls for a 30-day consultation period with the general public before the Cabinet can approve a law for tabling. Every ministry is asked to publish the consultations on its website. But the policy also gives a leeway to the ministries to eschew the process if "it is not feasible or desirable to do so". We hope that the new government that will be sworn in later this year will follow the policy in spirit even if it cannot do so in letter on every occasion.

YS SHARMILA'S SHIFT TO CONG A GAME-CHANGER

THE Congress is on a roll in the Telugu States. After coming to power in Telangana, the party has now pulled a trump card to revive its fortunes in Andhra Pradesh, from where it was uprooted after the division of the state in 2014. It has roped in no less a leader than Y S Sharmila, daughter of the late Y S Rajasekhara Reddy and sister of current Chief Minister and YSRC supremo Y S Jagan Mohan Reddy. To be sure, Sharmila's entry into the grand old party isn't a surprise, but what has sent tremors across the political landscape is her declaration that she would work in Andhra Pradesh.

The Congress must be commended for its persuasive skills since Sharmila had all along maintained that she would confine herself to Telangana, where she floated her YSR Telangana Party and undertook a padayatra. However, she decided against contesting in Telangana and extended her support to the Congress. From plunging headlong into Andhra politics to taking on her brother is a long leap indeed. Congress hopes are up, but would she able to live up to its expectations? Sharmila is no novice to politics. She undertook a padayatra in Andhra too and helped her brother in the 2014 and 2019 elections. She stood by him through thick and thin since their father's sudden demise in 2009 until differences surfaced between the two post-2019 elections. Jagan could have offered her some position but chose not to. Jagan has kept close family members away from the corridors of power so as not to be criticised like BRS chief K Chandrasekhar Rao.

Though Sharmila will definitely campaign hard, it will take a lot of work to raise the Congress from the pits. The party is seen as the main culprit that divided Andhra Pradesh and deprived it of Hyderabad. The promise of special status is unlikely to sway the voters much. The only realistic way forward would be for Sharmila and the Congress to reclaim the YSR legacy and wean leaders and cadre from the YSRC. If Sharmila succeeds in doing so, she could adversely impact her brother's fortunes. Alternatively, she could cut into anti-incumbency votes and play spoilsport for the TDP. Any which way, her success would mean defeat for either the YSRC or the TDP. In that sense, she could well be a game-changer.

QUICK TAKE

DON'T LET DOWN COVID GUARD

THE health ministry reported Friday morning that there had been 761 fresh cases of Covid and a dozen deaths related to the virus in the previous 24 hours. It marked a month of the JN.1 strain pushing up caseloads mostly in the south and west of the country. Researchers looking at levels of the virus in urban wastewaters say this is the second biggest wave in the US and Europe after Omicron. The world cannot let its guard down fully yet. The central and state governments are doing what they can in terms of preparedness. Citizens, on their part, should follow the safety protocols.

Immigrants make up almost half of Bengaluru. Bridging the linguistic divide will require work on both sides, with the onus slightly more on those coming in

IF KANNADA IS THE TONGUE OF LOCALS, SPEAK ON

HARISH BIJOOR

Brand Guru and Founder, Harish Bijoor Consults Inc

IT'S the time to debate again in Karnataka. This time round, once again it is language versus language. It's not Hindi versus Kannada this time. Instead, it's English versus Kannada. The face-off is in the demand of the Karnataka Rakshana Vedike (KRV) to implement a recent notification that mandates 60 percent of signboards of all commercial establishments to be in Kannada by the end of February 2024.

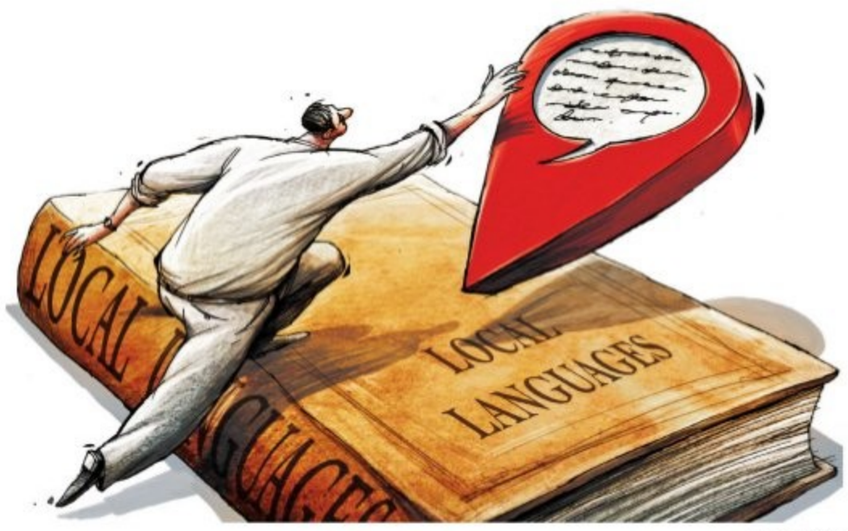
While the last date of implementation is still some two months away, the KRV decided to get the eyeballs rolling on the matter. It wanted everyone's attention on this subject pronto. A group of activists took it upon themselves to take out a procession which turned violent with outlet signage being stoned, marquee brand boards being blackened and 'English only' boards being brought down with sticks and stones. The streets were littered with overturned sundry decorative pots. The violence lasted a few hours before the police stepped in to quell the rancour of the moment. This leg of the eyeball grabbing action was restricted by and large to malls and high-street outlets.

Television channels grabbed the moment, social media went into a tizzy of indignant posts as usual and Brand Bengaluru was battered in the media. The action and visuals that followed were certainly bad for the image of an otherwise tolerant and peaceful city. A city that buzzes with businesses of both the corporate and retail kind.

In sheer terms of city output, the corporate sector of Bengaluru is a buzzing one. The city hosts employees and settlers (of both short-term and long-term inclinations) that come from literally every state in India and 43 other nations to date. Recent population numbers seem to indicate that Bengaluru is a 51:49 city when it comes to its ratio of locals versus those who come from outside to settle and make a living. The city is an eclectic mix of people from inside the state of Karnataka and outside. Language therefore comes to the fore of debate. The city is divided between those who speak Kannada and those who don't. The moment you speak the local tongue, you are included, and the moment you say "Kannada gothilla"(I don't know how to speak in Kannada), you get excluded. The city is divided into two for now. Language is a divider.

Bengaluru however is not a jingoistic city at all. It has never been one. The Kannadiga is an all-inclusive persona. The Kannadigas welcomes all, embracing every new food item is to partake, they speak in possibly three other languages, participate in literally every festival there is to celebrate and know no jingoism. I call Bengaluru a "Bisi-bele-baath city". And Bisi-bele-baath is our very own version of a khichdi. It takes in a lot more variants of masalas, and is by far tastier. And that's a personal jingoistic take. The city is an eclectic mix of people from all over. People who essentially live in peace more days of the year than possibly anyone else.

Then why this fracas over English versus Kannada? There is a reason. The city is getting sensitive by the night. As the ratio of people and language speakers changes, there is a latent irritation among those who appreciate Kannada and those who don't. The first time one is confronted by this is when a Kannada-speaking auto-rickshaw driver is told that he must learn Hindi or English by a non-Kannada speaking person. Ouch. And this rankles. Pride for the local language deepens, and rightly so. When pushed into a corner, you fight back. People start seeing those who live in the city with an us-versus-them lens. And that, I do believe,is the beginning of a divide. A divide by language. The onus to create less of this lies with those who don't speak the language, rather than with those that do. What I say here is possibly true in the case of every city that has a different spoken and written language in India.



SOUMYADIP SINHA

Net of it, Bengaluru is a sensitive city today. While the current fracas on Kannada-centric billboards will settle down and you will see 60 percent of Kannada on name-boards of restaurants, retail outlets, hotels, malls and offices, the issue of language and language-use and appreciation needs to be handled better. Corporate bodies and every commercial establishment that front-faces consumers need to get more sensitive to language and its many dimensions of comfort and discomfort. Language–sensitisation is a must in every establishment. This sensitisation needs to be taken to heart and practised by those who interact with people who may not know any other language except the local, or for that matter may not want to use any other but their own.

The key idea lies in a simple diktat. Give respect and get respect. If you respect the local language and become a part of it, you are respected more. The Kannadiga will love you more and more as you speak more and more of his, her or their tongue. I do believe adopting the local language is a business-enhancing tool all its own. The more you use t he local language, the more you will benefit as a corporate, a restaurant or a retailer on the street.

The onus of erasing the 'us' versus 'them' mindset lies more on the 'outsider' rather than on the 'insider'. And this point is applicable to every city in modern India. Let's sit up and smell the coffee. There are movements in every state that want more localisation and for that language is the starting point. Over the years, this will move on to other things as well, but no point fretting about that now. For the moment, learn my language to become a part of me. Learn my language to get closer to me. The simplest tool to become the 'us' is language. The easiest tool to stay in the ranks of the 'them' is to resist the local language.

I feel very happy to enter my favourite Karaikudi restaurant in Chennai to be able to meet Akso from Mizoram who is my usual waiter and speak with him in Tamil, even though my Tamil is broken. I feel comfortable. I hate to order in English. I am sensitive enough not to order in Kannada. Or in Hindi. The more we do this, the less we will have divisive moments of any kind affecting the peace of our many cities.

For the moment however, in parting, let me make a prediction of good income. Good prosperity. Sign-board makers are going to see a booming business in the first two months of 2024 in Bengaluru. Touché!

THE BATTLE OF 2024 IS CREATIVE PROs vs AI

PRATIK KANJILAL

Editor of The India Cable

SPEAKEASY

YOU know that you're in a fabulously expensive store when you find that nothing has a price tag on it. OpenAI and Microsoft could be getting that unnervingly exclusive feeling, because they are being sued by the New York Times for unspecified billions. That is all that the lawsuit filed this week in a Manhattan court says: "billions". How many? That's unstated, a nod to the tremendous value of artificial intelligence and the intellectual property on which it is trained.

The newspaper is one of several entities suing the owners of ChatGPT for scraping their content without permission in order to rival their products. The latest interest group is non-fiction writers, led by a case filed by a Hollywood Reporter editor, Julian Sancton; Pulitzer-winning authors have joined in. Suits have also been brought by Jonathan Franzen, George R R Martin and John Grisham. And, of course, the strike in Hollywood had much to do with the existential threat posed by artificial general intelligence.

The NYT case is getting the most attention on account of the volume of its content that has been used to train ChatGPT archives going back over the decades. It is one of the world's most important records of contemporary history, though the NYT suffers from the same failing as AI hallucinations, or confident assertions about the reality of things which do not exist, like weapons of mass destruction in Iraq, or a dark Chinese plot involving an Indian news portal.

ChatGPT is trained on the internet and its contents, a wide variety of matter on subjects as diverse as PHP and philosophy, wave mechanics and windsurfing. The spread includes all of Western literature, from Sudden to Ulysses, and all of media and the arts. That is where the blowback is coming from. It clearly tells us what is going to be acceptable about AI, and what will be regarded as enemy action.

This was anticipated by Isaac Asimov's Three Laws of Robotics, which were published in a short story in 1942 and collected in one of the most widely-read anthologies in the history of science fiction, I, Robot (1950). In it, they were attributed to a fictitious handbook of robotics dated to over a century later, 2058. It overshot the AI age by 35 years, but the First Law got it right (the others are derivative): "A robot may not injure a human being or, through inaction, allow a human being to come to harm."

Generations read that statement to mean that a robot is not allowed to offer violence to humans. Even Asimov may not have anticipated this, but its scope can broaden according to the definition of violence. For instance, it can be read to mean that machines should be disbarred from competing with humans in a way which threatens their essence. And read thus, it becomes rapidly clear that the focus of the discussion on AI has been misplaced.

TWITTER

> The conflict between AI and creative people was somewhat anticipated by Isaac Asimov's Laws of Robotics, the first of which said, "A robot may not injure a human being or, through inaction, allow a human being to come to harm." Its scope can broaden according to the definition of violence

The economic turmoil that AI threatens by taking up jobs and roles, perhaps within the year, is only that turmoil. Every technological revolution brings on a wave of redundancies. Farm machinery removed peasants from the fields. The washing machine and kitchen appliances conspired to steal the jobs of domestic workers. The computer is a multi-role, multitasking device, so it has been the most devastating so far, taking assistive roles away from humans across industries pool typists, telephone switchboard operators, data tabulators, accountants. The AI revolution is only sharpening this process.

Economic turmoil triggered by a technological revolution settles down soon after the event. Some workers move on to where their efforts continue to be rewarded. Some rewind to pre-tech roles, like handicrafts. Technology itself also creates new roles. The few who remain learn to treat the new technology as an assistant. Farmers become combine harvester drivers and seed drill operators. Domestic workers learn to use the microwave and the washing machine. In the short time since ChatGPT was released, its users already have it. Very often, the first prompt used on the machine is: "Imagine that you are my assistant." AI is going to find great assistive roles in a variety of fields, from radiology and oceanography to drafting office correspondence and selling retail. This is the real story, but it's so deathly boring and obvious that the press doesn't cover it too much.

The anxieties and excitement the strikes and lawsuits begin when AI ventures into intellectual property. First, it is trained on intellectual property owned by creative people. Then it produces its own intellectual property, and human producers of intellectual capital draw the line tight. Other anxieties about unemployment, students cheating and a plague of deepfakes are very real, but apart from issuing grave warnings, no one has acted substantively against them. The first serious challenge to the boom industry of 2024 has come from creative people, who had no trouble understanding that they are being ripped off.

For millenniums, people have been wondering about the essence of humanity. Is it a divine spark? A gift for language and communications, or formally compiling collective memory? The blowback against AI may have given us the definitive answer. The one asset that humans will defend without compromise is creativity. It's the only one without a price tag. It's worth the unspecified billions that the New York Times is suing for. If that were farmed out to a machine, human life would be rendered meaningless, and it is only normal for the creative people of the world to close ranks against the machine.

Allaying doubts

One really wonders if the INDIA bloc's request of verifying 100% match of voter verifiable paper audit trail slips will be accepted by the Election Commission. Considering the thin margins with which many ruling party members were elected, one doubts veracity of results. It is time we switch over to the ballot system to allay any doubts.

Kharge questions govt's China policy

Border stand-off and visa exemption to Chinese technicians contradictory, says Cong chief

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

Reports suggest Chinese diplomats visited the RSS headquarters. Why did they go? What was the purpose and nature of their conversation?
Mallikarjun Kharge, Congress leader

CONGRESS President Mallikarjun Kharge expressed concerns on Friday over the Modi government's recent remarks regarding Indo-China relations, emphasising the need for the government to clarify its stance on China policy.

India declared on Thursday that its relationship with China is "not normal" and acknowledged the ongoing diplomatic and military discussions to address unresolved issues in Eastern Ladakh. "Our position on China is very well-known. It's a relationship that isn't normal, but we've had dialogues on both the military and diplomatic fronts in October and November. The objective is to engage and seek resolution," said External Affairs Ministry spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal during a media briefing.

Kharge highlighted contradictions in the government's messaging on China policy, referring to Jaiswal's comments. He also mentioned reports of Chinese diplomats visiting the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) headquarters. "On one hand, the foreign ministry of the Modi government acknowledged for the first time that relations with China are not normal. On the other, reports suggest Chinese diplomats visited the RSS headquarters. Why did they go? What was the purpose and nature of their conversation?" Kharge asked.

Despite disengagement in several areas following extensive diplomatic and military talks, Indian and Chinese troops continue to face off in Eastern Ladakh for over three-and-a-half years. Kharge questioned the government's decision to grant visa exemptions to Chinese professionals and technicians for manufacturing under the PLI scheme.

"The Modi government has allowed visa exemptions for Chinese professionals and technicians in manufacturing under the PLI scheme. Why were these exemptions granted, especially considering China's issuance of stapled visas to our athletes for the Asian Games? And didn't we lose 20 brave soldiers in a clash with China in Galwan in 2020?" he inquired.

Kharge insisted that the Modi government should provide clear information about its China policy. "China seemingly received a free pass from Modi's statement 'Nobody should enter our border'. The MEA's statement described the situation as 'not normal,' yet the only action taken was to ban an app. The entire country, including Ladakh, is eager for clarity," Kharge stated.

However, the MEA spokesperson emphasised that India and China have agreed on the importance of maintaining peace along the border, stabilising the situation on the ground, and avoiding any incidents.

"India and China conducted the 28th meeting of the Working Mechanism for Consultation and Coordination on India-China Border Affairs. Our joint secretary in East Asia participated in these discussions. They examined all proposals to resolve the remaining issues and achieve complete disengagement in Eastern Ladakh," he concluded.

ECI bins Jairam's concerns, says it has full faith in use of EVMs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Election Commission of India on Friday dismissed concerns raised by Congress leader Jairam Ramesh regarding the VVPAT (voter verifiable paper audit trail) slips, stating that they raised no new assertions or doubts requiring further clarifications.

In a letter to Ramesh, the poll body also expressed "full faith in the use of the EVMs in the elections" and made it clear that the latest updated FAQs (frequently asked questions) answer "adequately and comprehensively" all reasonable and legitimate aspects on the use of EVMs in the elections.

"Rule 49A and 49M of the Conduct of Election Rules, 1961, governing VVPAT and handling of paper slips was introduced by INC (Indian National Congress) on August 14, 2013," said the letter signed by Pramod Kumar Sharma, principal secretary with the Election Commission.

Link databases, adopt AI: Shah to top police officers

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR & RAJESH ASNANI @ New Delhi/ Jaipur

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday stressed the need for linking databases and adopting an AI-driven analytical approach for tackling emerging security challenges.

Inaugurating the 58th conference of top police officers in Jaipur, he also emphasized the uniformity of structures, size and skill of counter-terror mechanisms across India.

He highlighted two important decisions taken by the Narendra Modi government — the National Education Policy and the enactment of three criminal justice laws to replace the British-era statutes — and said the country had entered the 'Amrit Kaal' in 2023.

Shah said the new laws are focused on the delivery of justice instead of punishment and the implementation of these laws would transform the country's criminal justice system into the most modern and scientific one.

The three-day conference is being attended by DGs and IGs of 28 states and eight UTs.

Shah stressed the need for training from the SHO-to-DGP level with adequate technology upgrades. He said the successful implementation of new laws will yield all desired results in the criminal justice delivery system.

"India has made significant improvement in the security scenario since 2014, especially the reduction of violence in the three critical hotspots — J&K, North-East and the Left-Wing Extremism," Shah said.

According to officials privy to the information, the conference will also deliberate on futuristic themes in policing and security such as the challenges posed by new technologies and the ways to deal with them.

ISRO-Mauritius deal to jointly develop satellites gets Cabinet nod

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE Union Cabinet, chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, approved several key decisions on Friday, including the renaming of Ayodhya Airport as 'Maharishi Valmiki International Airport, Ayodhyadham'.

The Prime Minister also underscored the Cabinet's approval of the 'PRITHvi VIgyan' scheme, aimed at providing flexibility in research and fund allocation across five subschemes related to earth sciences over five years.

The Cabinet also approved a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) between India and Mauritius to jointly develop a satellite, scheduled for launch by Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) in early 2025.

This MoU signed during the visit of Minister of State for External Affairs V Muraleedharan to Port Louis on November 1, 2023, aims to establish cooperation between the ISRO and Mauritius Research and Innovation Council in developing the satellite and using Mauritius's ground station. Additionally, the Cabinet approved MoUs signed between India and Guyana on cooperation in the hydrocarbon sector.

Modi condoles Japan quake victims, offers 'all possible assistance'

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi wrote to Japanese Prime Minister Fumio Kishida on January 4, the day earthquakes impacted Noto Peninsula in Japan.

"I am deeply anguished and concerned to learn about the major earthquake that struck Japan on January 1. I express my deepest condolences to the bereaved families of those who lost their lives. We stand in solidarity with Japan and its people affected by the disaster," PM Modi wrote in his communication to PM Kishida, according to a source.

I express my deepest condolences to the bereaved families of those who lost their lives. We stand in solidarity with Japan and its people affected by the disaster
Narendra Modi's letter to Fumio Kishida

As a strategic and global partner, India values its relationship with Japan and is ready to extend all possible assistance in this hour, it said.

Meanwhile, even though many countries from across the globe have offered help, Japan hasn't officially accepted any. There are reports suggesting that the US is preparing for military logistical support and aid for regions in Japan devastated by the earthquake that killed 94 people and rendered 33,000 homeless, with 200 unaccounted for. But there is no official confirmation from the Japanese side yet.

After the quake, US President Joe Biden had said, "Jill and I are praying for the people of Japan who have been impacted by the terrible earthquake. My administration is in touch with Japanese officials, and the US stands ready to provide any necessary assistance for Japan, our close ally."

On Monday, a catastrophic earthquake struck central Japan, leading to the tragic loss of 48 lives and leaving over 120 individuals injured. The disaster resulted in extensive damage to buildings, and widespread power outages, impacting tens of thousands of households, and compelled residents in coastal areas to seek refuge in higher elevations.

LS and RS privileges committees to examine MPs' suspensions next week

THE Privileges Committees of Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha will meet next week to examine the suspension of 14 members during the winter session of Parliament over alleged "unruly behaviour".

While the Privileges Committee of Lok Sabha is scheduled to meet on January 12 to hear the views of three suspended MPs, the Rajya Sabha committee will meet on January 9 to examine the suspension of 11 MPs.

The MPs will remain suspended until their case is considered by the House after receiving the report of the Privileges Committee.

A total of 146 MPs — 100 from Lok Sabha and 46 from Rajya Sabha — were suspended during the recently concluded winter session of Parliament after they brought placards and raised slogans, demanding a statement from Home Minister Amit Shah on the breach of Parliament security. Out of the 146 suspended MPs, 14 were referred to the privileges committees.

The Lok Sabha Committee, chaired by BJP member Sunil Kumar Singh, will record oral evidence of the three Congress members — K Jayakumar, Abdul Khaleque and Vijayakumar Vijay Vasanth — who were suspended for creating "grave disorder in the House" on December 18. While 97 members were suspended from the lower House for the remainder of the winter session, the issue of three MPs, who had reached the presiding officer's chair, was referred to the Privileges Committee.

Speaking to the media, Khaleque said, "We will tell the committee that all we demanded was the Home Minister to come to Parliament and speak on how the security breach happened and whose fault it was. Why didn't he come?"

Speaking to this paper, former Lok Sabha Secretary General PDT Achary said that a member can be suspended only for the remainder of the session and it cannot be extended beyond it. "There are no rules that allow suspension of a parliamentarian to extend beyond the session," he said.

Dr MR Madhavan, president of PRS Legislative Research, echoed the view. "This trend is something new," he said.

The Privileges Committee of the Rajya Sabha, chaired by Deputy Chairman Harivansh, will hear the views of the 11 members whose cases were referred to the committee.

As INDIA bloc heads for talks with allies, JDU firm on 16 'sitting seats' in Bihar

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

AHEAD of formal seat-sharing talks among the constituents of the opposition INDIA bloc in Bihar, Janata Dal (United) on Friday toughened its stand contending that it would "surely" contest the 16 sitting seats in the Lok Sabha elections.

Senior JD(U) leader and Bihar's water resources minister Sanjay Jha said there was no question of his party conceding its sitting seats — the ones it contested in the 2019 polls — to other allies of 'INDIA' in the state. A final decision on seat-sharing should be taken as early as possible, he said, adding that Chief Minister Nitish Kumar wanted to complete the process in October itself but it could not happen due to Congress' preoccupation with the assembly elections held in five states recently.

Responding to a query, Jha, considered a close confidante of Nitish, claimed that seat-sharing would be complete by this month. "It is already late. As soon as seat-sharing process is complete, respective constituents of INDIA bloc will start preparations for elections," he said, adding that INDIA alliance will win all 40 Lok Sabha seats in the state.

Meanwhile, Bihar Congress president Akhilesh Prasad Singh said all INDIA allies had to adopt a flexible approach on seat-sharing. He said all allies should be shrewd enough to formulate a seamless strategy.

"Since Congress is a national party, it should be allotted seats accordingly," he remarked.

In the 2019 Lok Sabha election, JD(U) had emerged victorious on 16 of the 17 seats it contested, while the BJP-JD(U) alliance won all 17 seats where it fielded candidates. Lok Janshakti Party of late Ram Vilas Paswan had also won all six seats it contested.

The grand alliance at that time had RJD, Congress, Hindustani Awam Morcha (HAM), Rashtriya Lok Samata Party (RLSP) and Vikassheel Insaan Party (VIP). RJD had contested 20 seats, Congress nine, RLSP on five, HAM and VIP three each.

SC notice to UP govt over ban on halal products

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday issued a notice to Uttar Pradesh government seeking a detailed reply to a batch of pleas challenging the manufacture, sale, storage and distribution of halal-certified products.

The petitioners — Jamiat Ulama-E Maharashtra, Halal India Private Limited, and others — have filed the pleas before the top court seeking a direction to declare that identification and consumption of halal products is a protected activity for Muslims being part of their religious and personal laws under Article 26 and 29 of the Constitution.

They requested a direction to quash the 2023 FIRs registered at Hazratganj, police station in Central Lucknow under various sections, including that 120-B (Criminal Conspiracy), 420 (Cheating), 467 (Forgery of a valuable Security) and 468 (Committing Forgery) of the Indian Penal Code (IPC).

Besides, quashing of November 18, 2023, notification by the Office of Commissioner, Food Safety and Drug Administration, was also asked.

After hearing the petitions, a two-judge bench of Justices BR Gavai and Sandeep Mehta issued a notice to the UP government seeking its response.

During the hearing today, when the court questioned as to why the High Court had not been approached by the petitioners in the case, senior advocate Siddharth Aggarwal, appearing for them, said that the ban had broad ramifications, including interstate trade, and hence the apex court was the correct court.

Senior advocate Ramachandran, representing Jamiat Ulama-e-Maharashtra, echoed Agarwal's submissions, arguing that the state's ban has national implications and affects the freedom of religion.

Although initially reluctant to entertain the pleas under Article 32, the bench ultimately decided to issue notice. "Issue notice. Returnable in two weeks," Justice Gavai said.

The plea alleged that in India, halal certification is done by five or six major certification organisations that have religious backgrounds like the Jamiat-Ulama-E-Maharashtra and Jamiat-Ulama-i-Hind Halal Trust. The writ petitions were filed under Article 32 by Halal India Private Limited and Jamiat Ulama-e-Maharashtra.

Hearing on Tejashwi plea adjourned

The defamation suit was filed over his alleged "only Gujaratis can be thugs" remark.

SC junks plea to remove Shahi Idgah mosque

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday set aside a PIL seeking removal of Mathura's Shahi Idgah mosque and its recognition as birthplace of Krishna, after noting that the PIL is not maintainable as several civil suits in the issue are pending for disposal.

Advocate Mahek Maheshwari had filed an appeal before the apex court, challenging the dismissal of his PIL by the Allahabad High Court. On October 12, 2023, in its detailed order, the court had rejected the PIL seeking the recognition of Mathura's Shahi Idgah Mosque site as birthplace of Krishna.

His PIL was rejected on the ground that several civil suits in the issue raised in it are already pending for disposal.

A two-judge bench headed by Justice Sanjiv Khanna and also comprising Justice Dipankar Datta, refused to interfere with the Allahabad High Court order.

Tech to suit tropical conditions

The new clean green cooling technology developed by IISc

INDIA does not develop synthetic refrigerants now. Such systems are developed by Western countries and either imported or manufactured in India under a license agreement. Presently, it is difficult to safely recycle synthetic refrigerants. Hence, they are either silently vented to the atmosphere or stored and burnt, only adding to pollution.

Propane, Isobutane, CO_2 and ammonia are natural refrigerants that can be used for cooling and for heating. However, they have not been aggressively promoted so far as they need a fair amount of research, training and investments. Also, with hydrocarbons being flammable, there are strict regulations on permissible charge limits. But CO_2 is not only inflammable, it is also safe and non-toxic. Being a natural refrigerant, it is being aggressively promoted for heat pump applications in supermarkets in European and other countries in the West. Besides heating, CO_2 can be used for cooling and deep freezing up to minus 50 degrees Celsius and also for power generation up to 1100 degrees Celsius.

This transcritical CO_2 system for cooling that has now been developed for the first time in India by IISc researchers and is installed at INS Shivaji has been re-engineered to suit the tropical environmental conditions. The work was executed by ICER faculty along with industry partners Triveni Turbines, Tata Consulting Engineers (TCE), Danfoss, Modelicon through the industrial research wing of IISc, the Foundation for Science, Innovation and Development (FSID). The system has a cooling capacity of 100 kW and supplies cooling water at seven degrees Celsius to an air-handling unit used for room cooling and for their food items. The system has a charge of 35kg of CO_2 and has not been topped up or replaced since its commissioning in September 2022. Based on the successful trials, the Navy intends to scale up the system to 750 kW or more and deploy it on one of its vessels.

"We found that the system performed well and was on par with a synthetic refrigerant-based system. The advantage of CO_2 for the Navy was a significant reduction in the footprint which is one-third the size of a similar capacity synthetic refrigerant-based unit. Additionally, the system was found to cool much faster and adapt better to changing ambient conditions compared to the existing systems," the team said.

'EMPIRE' FALLS

4 of Dawood's properties go under hammer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

PROPERTIES associated with the fugitive underworld don Dawood Ibrahim were auctioned off on Friday. The auction included properties in Ibrahim's childhood home area in Ratnagiri district of Maharashtra.

Two of the four properties owned by Dawood Ibrahim's family members were successfully sold. The first property, an agricultural land measuring 170.98 sq mt, was auctioned for ₹2.01 crore, far exceeding its reserve price of ₹15,440. Similarly, another piece of agricultural land, measuring 1730 sq mt, was sold for ₹3.28 lakh, surpassing its reserve price of ₹1,56,270.

The auction was overseen by the competent authority under the Smugglers and Foreign Exchange Manipulators (Forfeiture of Property) Act at Aayakar Bhavan in South Mumbai.

In past years, specifically in 2017 and 2020, SAFEMA (Smugglers and Foreign Exchange Manipulators Act) had conducted auctions for more than 17 properties linked to Dawood Ibrahim. Notably, in 2001, Ajay Srivastava, a lawyer and Shiv Sena member, bid on several of Ibrahim's shops, which are now embroiled in a legal tender process.

ED raids Maha firm linked to Pawar's relative

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Enforcement Directorate conducted raids at six locations in Maharashtra on Friday, including Amravati, Aurangabad, Baramati, and Pune. These raids were linked to the Maharashtra Co-operative Bank scam and Baramati Agro, a company owned by NCP MLA Rohit Pawar, grand nephew of NCP chief Sharad Pawar.

The case stems from a 2019 FIR filed by Mumbai Police's Economic Offences Wing, following a Bombay High Court order to investigate allegations of fraudulent sales of sugar factories at undervalued prices in Maharashtra's cooperative sector.

The Maharashtra State Cooperative Bank allegedly granted loans to various firms, including Baramati Agro, and later forgave these loans despite the profitability of these companies. In response to the ED raid, Rohit Pawar highlighted the importance of striving for Maharashtra's betterment, drawing inspiration from the state's tradition of social reform.

NCP Lok Sabha MP Supriya Sule criticised the raids as being politically motivated by the BJP, alleging that the ED primarily targets members of opposition parties. She pledged to combat these actions, referring to previous instances where her family members were targeted. "ED and income tax raids are not new to us," she said. "Earlier, the central agencies conducted raids at the properties of his three sisters when small children were present. Now, Rohit is the target. About 95% of the properties raided by central agencies belong to the opposition. The opposition is the BJP's target, and the ED is acting as its hitman. We are not afraid and will fight this," Ms. Sule added.

Maharashtra Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis defended the raids, stating that central agencies are independent and should be allowed to perform their duties without political interference. He suggested that those with nothing to hide should not fear such investigations.

Rahul's Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra to take a big run, stay for 11 days in UP

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

UNLIKE last year's 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' undertaken by Congress MP Rahul Gandhi, his upcoming 'Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra' is likely to have a more extensive run comprising an 11-day stay covering over 1000 km across 20 districts of politically the most crucial state of the country ahead of the big battle of 2024.

During the previous yatra, the former Congress chief had made a blink-and-you miss-it appearance covering just three western Uttar Pradesh districts in as many days.

However, as per the route map of the upcoming yatra, which will take off from Manipur on January 14, the Congress leader would enter Uttar Pradesh from Chandauli and Varanasi in the eastern part, and after covering those 20 districts where the Congress had performed well, winning 21 Lok Sabha seats in the 2009 general elections, it would leave the state from Agra to enter Rajasthan.

The major points on the route map in Uttar Pradesh this time include Varanasi, Prayagraj, Amethi, Rae Bareli, Lucknow, Shahjahanpur, Sitapur and Bareilly. It will also cover Aligarh, Badaun, Mathura, Hathras and Agra. "The Yatra would cover around 1074 km in Uttar Pradesh in 11 days. The preparations for the Yatra are in full swing," said Anshu Awasthi, a UP Congress leader.

However, a close analysis of the route indicates that it coincides with most of the Lok Sabha constituencies that the Congress had won in 2009. The yatra will skip the Bundelkhand and Kanpur regions where its performance had been less impressive as it had won just 4 seats 15 years ago.

The 136-day Bharat Jodo Yatra from Kanyakumari to Srinagar between September 7, 2022 and January 30, 2023, had virtually skipped Uttar Pradesh. It had entered the state from Loni in Ghaziabad on January 3, Baghpat on January 4, and made its exit from Kairana (Shamli) to Panipat in Haryana on January 5.

According to UPCC chief Ajay Rai, yatra's purpose is win people's confidence and instil confidence in them. "It intends to kindle hope of justice among the fearful and distressed public and fight for justice for them. It is UP where people are most harassed and distressed under the BJP rule," he added.

Silkyara accident a boon for U'khand worker

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

NEVER in his wildest of dreams did 24-year-old Pushkar Singh think that the Silkyara tunnel accident, which grabbed global attention due to its prolonged and complicated rescue operation, would turn out to a lifesaver for him.

Hailing from Champawat, Singh, who happened to be one among the 41 labourers trapped in the tunnel for 17 days, was unaware of his congenital heart defect.

After their rescue on November 29, the survivors were taken to AIIMS for medical examination, where the doctors discovered that he had a hole in his heart. According to officials in the All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), during the health examination, cardiologist Dr Varun Kumar learnt about the problem first while performing an echocardiography. Unaware of his illness, Singh had reached Uttarkashi from Champawat in search of employment.

After the identification of the defect in his heart, specialists at AIIMS decided to conduct an open-heart surgery.

Pushkar Singh (centre) was unaware of his congenital heart defect

The procedure took place a week ago, and Pushkar is currently in good health and was discharged on Friday. Dr Kumar shared the information with Dr Anshuman Darbari, a senior surgeon in the cardiovascular department.

On learning about it, the institute's director, Prof Meenu Singh ensured coordination with the medical professionals regarding Pushkar's health. "Pushkar's courage and the hard work of experienced doctors at AIIMS resulted in the complete success of the highly complex open-heart surgery," said Dr Kumar.

Dr Anshuman Darbari, a senior surgeon in the Cardiothoracic and Vascular Surgery (CTVS) department at AIIMS, said had Pushkar had not reached AIIMS, he would never have learnt about his heart condition which could have proved fatal in the long run.

Although he had gone to Uttarakhand for employment, getting stuck in a tunnel brought him to AIIMS with other labourers, changing his fate.

This unexpected turn of events not only saved his life but also allowed him to overcome a significant challenge in his life.

Notably, on November 12, 2023, a section of the Silkyara Bend–Barkot tunnel, a project to connect National Highway 134 in the Uttarkashi district of Uttarakhand, caved in while under construction. As many as 41 workers were trapped inside the tunnel.

After several failed attempts, the government finally brought in "rat-hole" miners who, with their manual mining methods, succeeded in rescuing the trapped workers.

Bidders 'distressed' over delay in coal ministry's nod to relax mining limit

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

THE excessive delay in commencing the excavation process from coal mines allocated through the commercial auctions by the Centre has raised concerns causing disquiet among the successful bidders.

The sixth tranche of such an auction for coal mines launched in November last year got an excellent response (bids received for 32 mines) as the reforms in the coal sector looked promising. However, the delay is said to be causing a loss of around ₹40 crore per month to the state exchequer in terms of statutory and revenue share payments from each yet-to-start mining auctioned coal mine. Besides, it may lead to delay in supply of coal to the thermal plants, the bidders said.

Various investor organisations declared as successful bidders in the commercial coal block auction find themselves in a fix even after the coal block order had been vested to them. The reason is the area limit for allocated coal blocks. The limit is specified under Section 6 (1) of the Mines and Minerals (Development and Regulation) Act, provided the Centre and the state are convinced to relax the limit.

Any restriction, if applicable, either should have been done before the bidding process and or it should have asked the bidder to take approval before participating in the commercial auctions.

Executive president of a firm

According to these firms, the Centre as part of the coal block bidding process should release vesting orders along with relaxation in the given limits, as all blocks are being granted on commercial terms for which the bidder paid premiums in addition to royalty and other taxes. "Any restriction, if applicable, either should have been done before the bidding process and or it should have asked the bidder to take approval before participating in the commercial auctions. Such situations are distressing," said an executive president awaiting a mining lease for his firm.

The Centre claims to work on a vision to secure coal availability to meet the demands of various sectors of the economy, giving the highest priority to 'ease of doing business.' But some of the well-known firms are worried as the coal ministry is yet to decide to offer relaxation on the official minutes submitted from Chhattisgarh, said a government official.

Some organisations approached the coal ministry with the appeal but were asked to proceed via the state government that can submit in writing for consideration on relaxation with justification for the successful bidders.

Ukraine keeps up strikes, Russia downs 36 drones over Crimea

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN air defences downed dozens of Ukrainian drones in occupied Crimea and southern Russia on Friday.

Air raid sirens wailed in Sevastopol, the largest city in Crimea, and traffic was suspended for a second straight day on a bridge connecting the peninsula, which Moscow seized illegally a decade ago.

The Russian Defence Ministry said its defences intercepted 36 drones over Crimea and one over Krasnodar, part of an emerging pattern of intensified Ukrainian aerial attacks in recent days.

A Ukrainian Neptune anti-ship missile also was destroyed over the northwestern part of the Black Sea, ministry said.

The developments came after three persons were injured on Thursday night by other Ukrainian rocket and drone attacks on the Russian border city of Belgorod and the surrounding region, said Belgorod Gov. Vyacheslav Gladkov.

He posted photographs on Telegram of an apartment building with some windows shattered and damaged cars. He said authorities could help those wanting to move farther from the border.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy has pledged to hit more targets on the Crimean Peninsula and inside Russian border regions this year. The goal is to unsettle Russians as President Vladimir Putin seeks another six years in power in a March 17 election.

A Ukrainian attack on military facilities in Crimea on Thursday affected a command centre and the peninsula's air defence system, according to a spokesperson for Ukraine's southern joint forces, Nataliia Humeniuk.

She said the Russian military recently relocated its Crimean launch sites for Shahed drones. It was not possible to verify either side's claims. AP

Trump biz got $7.8 million from foreign govts

China spent $5.5 million at Trump-owned properties while India spent around $282,764

WASHINGTON

FORMER US president Donald Trump's businesses received at least $7.8 million from foreign governments including China during his time in the White House, a congressional report claimed on Thursday.

Officials from Saudi Arabia, India, Turkey and Democratic Republic of Congo were among some 20 countries' representatives who paid money to Trump's hotel and real estate businesses during his presidency, Democrats on the House Oversight Committee said.

The authors said that such revenues from overseas governments violated a constitutional ban on "foreign emoluments."

"As President, Donald Trump accepted more than $7.8 million in payments from foreign states and their leaders, including some of the world's most unsavory regimes," said the report titled White House for Sale. "We know about only some of the payments that passed into former President Trump's hands during just two years of his presidency from just 20 of the more than 190 nations in the world through just four of his more than 500 businesses."

During the Trump Administration, the Indian government spent at least $282,764 at Trump properties in New York City and Washington, DC. This spending encompassed the costs incurred by the Indian government for two units in Trump World Tower, which they owned throughout the Trump presidency, as well as multiple stays at the Trump International Hotel in Washington, DC, by officials from the Indian Embassy in the United States, as per the report.

Regarding China, the report alleged that Beijing as well as businesses including ICBC bank and Hainan Airlines spent $5.5 million at Trump-owned properties.

The report also claims that "Saudi Arabia paid at least $615,422 in prohibited emoluments to former President Trump's businesses over the course of his term in office from just (the Trump World Tower) and the March 2018 stay at the Trump International Hotel in Washington, DC." AFP

Afghanistan also spent on Trump's firms

Some of the countries that spent on Trump's business include Qatar ($465,744), Kuwait ($303,372), Malaysia ($248,962), Afghanistan ($154,750), Philippines ($74,810), United Arab Emirates ($65,225), Thailand ($11,340), Democratic Republic of Congo ($25,171), Kazakhstan ($23,772), Lebanon ($7,720), Turkey ($1,894)

Olympic racer Pistorius freed after 9 years

PRETORIA

OLYMPIC sprinter Oscar Pistorius, a double-amputee who became a global star competing at his sport's highest level, was released from prison on Friday after serving nearly nine years for killing his girlfriend, the model Reeva Steenkamp.

Pistorius, 37, was released early Friday from the Atteridgeville Correctional Center in Pretoria and processed at a parole office before being released to his family, Department of Corrections spokesperson Singabakho Nxumalo said.

Pistorius served nearly nine years of his murder sentence of 13 years and five months for the fatal shooting of Steenkamp on Valentine's Day 2013. He became eligible for early release having served at least half his sentence, and then was approved for parole in November. AP

Israel lays out vision for next steps of Gaza war

RAFAH

ISRAEL'S defence minister on Thursday laid out his vision for the next phase of the war in Gaza, describing how Israeli forces would shift to an apparently scaled-down " new combat approach" in northern Gaza, while continuing to fight Hamas in the south of the territory "for as long as necessary."

Yoav Gallant also outlined a proposal for how Gaza would be run once Hamas is defeated, with Israel keeping security control while an undefined, Israeli-guided Palestinian body runs day-to-day administration, and the US and other countries oversee rebuilding.

Israel has come under heavy international pressure to spell out a post-

The document issued by Gallant was titled a "vision for Phase 3" of the war, and Gallant's office said the phase had not yet begun. It also said the ideas were Gallant's and not official policy, which would have to be set by Israel's war and security cabinets.

Palestinians flee the Israeli ground offensive in the central Gaza Strip, heading south through Deir al Balah on Friday | AP

Gallant's statement underlined that the war would go on until Hamas' military and government capabilities are eliminated and the more than 100 hostages still in captivity are returned.

In the north, the statement said, forces will shift to a new approach that includes raids, destruction of tunnels, "air and ground activities and special operations." The aim would be "the erosion" of the remaining Hamas presence.

There was no word whether northern Gaza's population, which has almost entirely been driven south, would be allowed to return.

The statement did not clarify how the new approach would differ from current operations, but Gallant has previously said it would be a lower scale. In the south, he said, fighting would continue "as long as is deemed necessary." After the war, Israel will keep security control, taking military action in Gaza when necessary to ensure there are no threats and maintaining inspections of all goods entering the territory. AP

JOINT PATROLS TO PREVENT ROHINGYAS

The Indonesian Navy and Rokan Hilir Water and Air Police on Friday conducted a joint patrol to prevent boats carrying Rohingya refugees from entering the waters of Riau. The chief of Rokan Hilir Police, Andrian Pramudianto, on Friday, said that the joint patrol was carried out to anticipate two refugee boats being diverted to North Sumatra region and possibly re-entering Riau waters on Thursday, Antara reported. "There are indications that boats carrying Rohingyas have entered Riau waters. We carried out a joint patrol in the waters of Sinaboi and Panipahan," he said

GOVT EXPECTS 8 MN CHINESE TOURISTS IN '24

After permanently waiving visa requirements, Thailand expects 8 million Chinese tourists this year, said Chai Wacharonke, government spokesperson, on Friday. In a statement, he said the visa waiver will lead to increase in flights between the two nations, decreasing the ticket prices and boosting Chinese arrivals in the country. Visa waiving is the latest push to increase arrivals. The government this week approved a cut in taxes on alcoholic beverages and entertainment venues and extended the opening hours from 2 am to 4 am for night clubs

Ethnic armed group in Myanmar seizes key city

BANGKOK

AN alliance of ethnic armed groups in northeastern Myanmar has reportedly achieved one of the main goals it set when it launched an offensive last October by taking control of Laukkaing, a key city on the border with China.

The Three Brotherhood Alliance—comprising the Myanmar National Democratic Alliance Army (MNDAA), the Ta'ang National Liberation Army and the Arakan Army—took control of Laukkaing late Thursday after forces of the country's military government reportedly laid down their arms and were allowed to withdraw.

Laukkaing is the capital of Kokang Self-Administered Zone, geographically part of northern Shan state. The MNDAA is a military force of the Kokang minority, who are ethnic Chinese.

The city's fall to the alliance is the biggest in a series of defeats suffered by Myanmar's military government.

Whether the Three Brotherhood Alliance will try to extend its offensive outside of Shan state is not yet clear, though it has vowed to keep fighting against military rule. The Arakan Army is also engaged in combat on its home ground in Rakhine state in western Myanmar.

Key to Thursday's events was the surrender of the regional military command headquarters based in Laukkaing, which had been under virtual siege for months. Most of the seven army battalions believed to have been under its command had already collapsed.

The Shwe Phee Myay News Agency, an online news site reporting from Shan state, said about 1,000 soldiers had surrendered, and many of them were transported to Lashio, the capital of Shan's northern region, under an agreement with the MNDAA for their repatriation. AP

FIRMS PULL ADS FROM TV AFTER JOKES ON MIGRANTS

WARSAW

PROSECUTORS in Poland are investigating after commentators joked on a right-wing television station that migrants should be sent to Auschwitz or be tattooed or microchipped like dogs, and some companies have pulled advertising from the broadcaster.

The remarks were made over the past week by guests on TV Republika, a private station whose role as a platform for conservative views grew after the national conservative party, Law and Justice, lost control of Poland.

During its eight years in power, Law and Justice turned taxpayer-funded state television into a platform for programming that cast largescale migration into Europe as a danger.

Spreading hate speech is a crime under Polish law. While public TV stations were shielded from market and legal pressures under the previous government, TV Republika now faces both.

IKEA said it was pulling its advertising from the station, prompting some conservative politicians to urge people to boycott the Swedish home goods giant. Other firms, including Carrefour and MasterCard said they were pulling their ads, too.

The controversial on-air statements were made as the EU has been trying to overhaul its outdated asylum system, including with a plan to relocate migrants who arrived illegally in the recent years.

Jan Pietrzak, a satirist, said Sunday on TV Republika that he had "cruel joke" in response that idea. "We have barracks for immigrants: In Auschwitz, Majdanek, Treblinka, Stutthof," Pietrzak said.

Three days later, Marek Król, a former editor of Wprost, said migrants could be chipped like dogs, referring to microchips that can help reunite lost pets with their owners, but that it would be cheaper to tattoo numbers on their left arms. AP

Carrefour bans PepsiCo over high costs

PARIS: Supermarket chain Carrefour will stop selling PepsiCo products in it stores in France, Belgium, Spain and Italy over price increases for items like Lay's potato chips, Quaker Oats, Lipton tea and its namesake soda. The French grocery chain said it pulled PepsiCo products from shelves in France on Thursday and added small signs in stores that say, "We no longer sell this brand due to unacceptable price increases." It comes as a new French law meant to fight the rising cost of living has supermarkets facing millions in fines if they don't reach a deal with suppliers on prices by end of the month. The ban also will extend to Belgium, Spain and Italy, but Carrefour, which has 12,225 stores in more than 30 countries, didn't say when it would take effect in those three countries. PepsiCo said in a statement that it has "been in discussion with Carrefour for many months and we will continue to engage in good faith in order to try to ensure that our products are available." AP

SEBI tightens short-selling norms

Market regulator said naked short selling not permitted in the Indian securities market

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

MARKET regulator Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) on Friday reiterated that naked short-selling is not permitted in the Indian securities market, but investors of all categories can do short-selling.

Sebi also repeated that institutional investors are prohibited from engaging in day trading, meaning they are not allowed to square off their transactions within the same trading day. "Naked short selling shall not be permitted in the Indian securities market and accordingly, all investors would be required to mandatorily honor their obligation of delivering the securities at the time of settlement," said SEBI in a notification.

Already banned in many markets, naked shorting is the practice of selling short shares that have not yet been determined to exist or that the trader hasn't secured in some way. In general, traders first borrow a stock or determine that it can be borrowed before selling it short. On not allowing institutional investors from practising day trading, Sebi said that all transactions would be grossed for institutional investors at the custodians' level and the institutions would be required to fulfill their obligations on a gross basis. The custodians, however, would continue to settle their deliveries on a net basis with the stock exchanges. The clarity on short-selling by the market regulator comes days after India's Apex Court came down heavily on short-sellers in the Adani-Hindenburg case.

The Supreme Court has asked the government and SEBI to see if there was any infraction of law by the Hindenburg report on short selling, and if so, take action in accordance with the law. Sebi notification also read that securities traded in the F&O segment shall be eligible for short selling. The regulator said that it may review the list of stocks that are eligible for short selling transactions from time to time. Sebi dictated institutional investors to disclose upfront at the time of placement of order whether the transaction is a short sale.

Sonam Srivastava, Founder and Fund Manager at Wright Research said the latest SEBI short selling regulations are undoubtedly a double-edged sword.

"While their stated aim of curbing market manipulation and enhancing price discovery is laudable, their potential to dampen market efficiency shouldn't be ignored. Limiting short selling, particularly naked shorting, can impede liquidity, especially in smaller stocks. This could make the market less responsive to fundamental shifts, potentially harming price discovery," said Srivastava.

Naked short selling shall not be permitted in the Indian securities market and all investors would be required to mandatorily honour their obligation of delivering the securities at the time of settlement. –SEBI.

Lower nominal GDP makes fiscal deficit target steeper

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

WHILE India's real GDP growth is estimated to be 7.3% for FY24 -- much higher than most predictions-- the nominal GDP or the GDP at current prices (2023-24 prices) is expected to be only 8.9%, which is lower than the budgeted target of 10%.

This means that the size of the Indian GDP (in current prices) would likely be ₹297 lakh crore at the end of the current financial year instead of the budgeted estimate of ₹302 lakh crore.This could make it difficult for the government to meet its fiscal deficit target.

The government has budgeted for a fiscal deficit of ₹17.9 lakh crore in the current financial year. If the nominal GDP for FY24 is ₹ 297 lakh crore instead of ₹302 lakh crore, the fiscal deficit could be 6% of the GDP instead of the targeted 5.9% in the current financial year. The nominal GDP growth slowed down to 8.9% in FY24 from 16.1% in FY23, due to sharp slowdown in deflator growth (1.4% in FY24 vs 8.2% in FY23). The wholesale price index (WPI), which constitutes the majority of GDP deflator, was in the negative zone for most part of the current financial year. Analysts, however, believe that though a lower nominal GDP growth may make the 5.9% fiscal target steeper, the government would most likely achieve it.

Gaura Sen Gupta, economist at IDFC First Bank, feels that the Centre would meet the FY24 fiscal deficit target of 5.9%, even after incorporating slowdown in nominal GDP growth and disinvestment shortfall. DK Srivastava, chief policy advisor, EY India, also expects the Central government to meet its budgeted fiscal deficit target for FY24.

"The budgeted buoyancy of Centre's gross tax revenues (GTR) was only 0.99 which would imply a tax revenue growth of 8.8%, well below the budgeted GTR growth of 10.4%," he said."However, based on Controller General of Accounts (CGA) data, we expect a higher than budgeted growth in Centre's GTR due to a much higher direct tax buoyancy than was assumed in the Budget. We expect the GoI to meet its budgeted fiscal deficit target for FY24," he added.

Govt auctions 91 coal mines so far; expects to create 3L jobs

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government has auctioned 91 mines since it initiated the auctioning of commercial coal mining in the country three years ago.

According to the coal ministry, once these mines are fully operational, they are expected to create employment for around three lakh individuals, both directly and indirectly. Currently, six commercial mines have already initiated coal production, and another three are expected to start production in the next couple of months.

The ministry has successfully completed seven rounds of auctions through a completely transparent online process, launched by the prime minister in 2020.

"Offering 31 coal mines of four States for auction, the 9th tranche of auction was launched recently in December, 2023. Mines pertaining to coal/lignite-bearing states of Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh, Madhya Pradesh and Telangana come under the 9th tranche of auction," said the coal ministry, in a press note.

As per the government's estimation, the coal mining from the already auctioned mines is projected to generate an annual revenue of ₹33,343 crore, considering production at an aggregated peak rate capacity level of 220.90 million tonnes per annum (MTPA).

ASIANOMICS

CHINA

MONEY MANAGERS TO PRIORITISE EQUITY FUNDS LAUNCH

Chinese government has informally asked money managers in China to prioritise the launch of equity funds over other products like bond funds as authorities struggle to revive the country's lagging stock market. The "window guidance", or unofficial, verbal advice from regulators, was given by the China Securities Regulatory Commission to some of the country's biggest mutual fund managers in recent weeks, the sources said on condition of anonymity because the information was not public. China's $3.8 trillion MF industry is a key pillar of the country's capital markets, but has seen sales, especially those of equity funds tapering off over the past year as stock benchmarks test multi-year lows. The move to launch new equity funds is part of a campaign by the authorities in the world's second-largest economy over the past year to revive the stock market and boost investor confidence dented by a destabilising property sector crisis and sputtering growth. While Beijing has rolled out a raft of measures aimed at boosting the economy in recent months, analysts said the moves are not sufficient to restore market confidence.

PHILIPPINE

INFLATION AT NEAR 2-YEAR LOW BUT RATES LIKELY TO STAY ELEVATED

The consumer price index in December rose 3.9% from a year earlier compared with 4.1% in November, the statistics agency said on Friday, the slowest since February 2022 and the third straight month that inflation has eased. That brought the 2023 average inflation rate to 6.0%, still way outside the central bank's 2%-4% target. "The Monetary Board deems it necessary to keep monetary policy settings sufficiently tight until a sustained downtrend in inflation becomes evident," the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) said in a statement following the data. "The BSP will continue to monitor inflation expectations and second-round effects and take appropriate action as needed to bring inflation back to the target," it added. Economists had forecast annual inflation of 4.0% in December, within the central bank's 3.6% to 4.4% projection for the month. Core inflation, which strips out volatile food and energy prices, was at 4.4% in December versus 4.7% in the previous month.

JAPAN

SERVICE ACTIVITY EXPANDS IN DEC, LED BY NEW BIZ

Japan's December service activity expanded at a faster pace from the previous month thanks to strong demand and a lift in confidence even though the overall growth rate was modest, a business survey showed on Friday. The service sector has been a bright spot for the world's third-largest economy, marking 16 consecutive months of growth and helping offset some of the drag on momentum from the struggles facing manufacturers. The final au Jibun Bank Service purchasing managers' index (PMI) climbed to 51.5 in December from 50.8 in November when it posted the slowest growth in 2023, according to index publisher S&P Global Intelligence. It was below the flash reading of 52.0 but remained above the 50.0 threshold separating expansion from contraction. Overall, the headline figure was the second softest for last year compared to those in early and mid-2023. An upturn in new business volumes, led by domestic customers, anchored the growth, the survey said. "Firms were also confident that this would lead to continued rises in activity, as indicated by a brighter degree of confidence in the 12-month outlook," said Usamah Bhatti, economist at S&P Global Market Intelligence.

Budget 2024: Real estate sector bats for tax sops

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE real estate industry has high hopes from the Union Budget 2024 as it expects the budget to boost the affordable housing segment, which is facing inflationary pressure. The industry is eagerly anticipating Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on February 1 to announce supportive measures, the most prominent being increasing the deduction for home loans (u/s 24).

"The proposal to increase the qualifying cost for affordable properties and release government-owned lands at reduced rates aligns with inclusive growth objectives. Crucially, the push to raise the tax deduction limit on home loans from ₹2 lakh to ₹5 lakh aims to rejuvenate the budget housing segment amidst recent interest rate hikes," said Avneesh Sood, Director Eros Group. Anuj Puri, Chairman of Anarock Group, said increasing the rebate to at least ₹5 lakh can stimulate a more robust market for housing, particularly in the budget homes segment, which has seen a decline in demand since the pandemic.

Puri added that the industry's outlook for 2024 is positive, but the results of the upcoming general elections will have a significant impact on the demand for and growth in residential real estate. Puri said that several interest stimulants that were offered to developers and consumers in this market over the years have expired in the last one to two years and now it is imperative to revive and extend significant benefits, such as tax breaks, to encourage developers to construct more affordable housing and to make it possible for customers to acquire such homes.

National Real Estate Development Council (NAREDCO) National President G Hari Babu said NAREDCO has submitted a representation to the finance ministry seeking "Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME) status" for small builders and introduction of a scheme for those earning salaries up to ₹40,000 per month. Property developers are also seeking a GST rate cut on construction material.

At long last, IOA appoints a CEO

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

AFTER much delay, the Indian Olympic Association has appointed a Chief Executive Officer on Friday. The Executive Committee meeting in New Delhi finally agreed to the name of Raghuram Iyer as recommended by the three-member nomination committee. Iyer is expected to assume office on January 15.

This newspaper had been highlighting the non-appointment of a CEO for almost a year. The IOC also pulled up the IOA during its session in Mumbai. As of now, Kalyan Chaubey, the joint secretary was the acting CEO which was in violation of its own constitution. Though the appointment of the CEO was not part of EC meeting agenda, it was discussed as part of the governance issues. The IOA said through a statement that Iyer was appointed following a meticulous selection process. The IOA had received at least six applications this time and after scrutiny two names were shortlisted for the post. Though initially there was a lot of pressure from different quarters, on the day when the EC had to decide on the nomination committee's choice, it was a unanimous choice.

The nomination committee comprised of IOA president PT Usha, chairperson of the Athletes' Commission MC Mary Kom and IOC member in India Nita Ambani. The IOA said that Iyer's vast experience and proven track record in sports management make him an ideal candidate to lead the IOA. Usha said, "Iyer brings in a unique combination of leadership, strategic vision and a deep understanding of the sport's landscape. His appointment is a significant step towards the continued growth and success of the Indian sports on global stage." She also thanked all the members of the EC for their wholehearted support.

The post of the CEO is crucial to the functioning of the IOA. It is a paid post and almost all day-to-day activities of the IOA will be taken by the CEO. Just to name a few of CEO's responsibilities, "The Secretary General/CEO shall be in charge of: a) the day-to-day administration of the Association; b) shall transact all office business in accordance with the decisions of the President, IOA, General Assembly and Executive Council; c) Manage all staff functions of the IOA."

Earlier this year, the IOA EC even deliberated on changing certain provisions of the IOA constitution to accommodate certain candidates. However, after this newspaper raised the issue, the IOC stepped in due to which the meeting had to be cancelled. Iyer had been the CEO of Rajasthan Royals and RPSG Sports. He also worked with ATK Mohun Bagan.

WFI prez requests UWW to revoke suspension

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

TO date, there is no clarity on whether the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) or ad-hoc committee has given a written confirmation of the Wrestling Federation of India election to the United World Wrestling as was requested by the world body. However, the newly-elected WFI president Sanjay Kumar Singh on Friday took a lead in this direction and wrote a letter to the world body apprising it of the election and requested to lift the suspension imposed by the UWW last year.

In the letter addressed to UWW president Nenad Lalovic, Sanjay Singh also highlighted the fact that since 1961 the National Sport Federation (NSF) has been recognised by the world body without any confirmation by the NOC (IOA in this case). He also attached excerpts from a judgement of the High Court of Delhi which stated that the IOA cannot exercise any control of authority over an NSF.

"Pursuant to the election, the newly elected body has taken charge of the WFI and is managing its affairs and we await for the lifting of the provisional suspension imposed by the UWW. We understand that we continue to be an affiliated member of the UWW, however, there is a provisional suspension imposed by the UWW which was to be vacated after holding of the elections of the WFI as mentioned in your letter dated 23rd August 2023," read the letter accessed by this daily.

The WFI chief, whose panel has been asked to abstain from functioning by the sports ministry, emphasised that the elections were held under the supervision of former Chief Justice of J&K High Court MM Kumar as the Returning Officer. "The Election results were announced the same day on 21 December 2023 by the Returning Officer. The Results are attached with the email. All successful candidates were also issued due certificates of election by the Returning Officer. The same are also attached," added the letter. The letter also said that the entire election process was videographed by the IOA in the presence of the Observers from the UWW and the IOA. "The records can be called from the IOA in case the IOA is not sending the confirmation to the UWW for reasons best known to them," read the letter.

Asserting that courts in India, the UWW rules and the Olympic Charter, all three mandate the autonomy of the NSFs, Sanjay Singh through the letter said that the IOA cannot be any controlling factor to accept or reject an election of an NSF. "...Hence, we request you to accept the elections of the WFI as has been done in the past many decades by the UWW and lift the provisional suspension of the WFI. The IOA also does not and cannot approve any election of any other NSF in India as well. It would not be fair to put the WFI as an exception for something that is not even legally correct."

As the protesting wrestlers had raised questions over safety measures during the national camps, the letter said that all the coaching camps in India are organised by the government not by the NSF. "...They (camps) do not take place under any of the property or the environment of the NSF. However, there are safe practices that are being followed by the NSFs to ensure that all athletes are safe from any kind of discrimination, abuse or harassment."

Sanjay Singh also informed the UWW that Prevention of Sexual Harassment Committee/Internal Complaint Committee and the Athletes' Commission were formed soon after the election. Both of them comprised reputed wrestlers who had won Olympics and World Championships medals, said the letter. "Hence, it is imperative that the provisional suspension be revoked as the athletes are now getting desperate for the WFI to restart its work with the UWW for the betterment of the sport and athletes. We would like to assure you that there shall be no prejudice caused to any athletes and they shall be duly entered in all international events. Also, we will be organizing the national and state events in the coming year," the letter said.

HC questions ministry over Jyothi's award snub

ENS @ Chennai

THE Andhra Pradesh High Court has stepped in and asked the sports ministry to act expeditiously before the day of sports awards function on the complaint filed by Jyothi Surekha Vennam. After being snubbed for the Major Dhyan Chand Khel Ratna for 2023, Jyothi had approached the HC.

Archer Jyothi contended that she had won three gold medals at the Asian Games and as per sports ministry criteria her cumulative points should be more than Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty, who were chosen as last year's Khel Ratna. According to the petition, Vennam has fulfilled the necessary criteria for the award, while the badminton doubles players have not fulfilled the required points. "As per the list of medals won by the petitioner (Vennam) and the points earned as per the criteria fixed by the Ministry of Youth Affairs & Sports, the petitioner is eligible for 148.74 points, whereas Rankireddy and Shetty would be eligible for 58.5 points," the petition said.

Since the National Sports Awards 2023 is scheduled on January 9, 2024, the court has said... "Considering the submission that a representation dated 14.12.2023 is made to the Hon'ble Minister of Sports & Youth Affairs..., this Court deems it appropriate to pass an interim order providing that necessary action on the same be taken, as expeditiously as possible, before 08.01.2024."

Sensational Sadhu sinks Australia in first T20I

KALYANI MANGALE @ Chennai

THE last time Australia toured India for the T20I series, Titas Sadhu was preparing for the U19 T20 World Cup in South Africa. During the five-match series against the hosts in the lead up to the marquee event, Sadhu finished with bowling figures of 2-1-2-2 in one of the games. Those who watched the live feed without commentary on the grainy one-camera setup from Tuks Cricket Oval saw something special.

A few weeks later, on January 29, she etched her name in the history books with a sensational spell of 4-0-6-2 against England to help India lift the inaugural U19 World Cup in Potchefstroom. On February 13, in the first-ever Women's Premier League Auction, Delhi Capitals signed the Bengal pacer. In less than two months, she became part of history on so many levels that most could dream of.

The WPL season, though, gave her a reality check when she didn't get a single match to play for Capitals. However, Sadhu decided to focus on the positives.

In her second-ever match for the senior side, that too in the gold medal match of the Asian Games, her bowling figures yet again read like a four-digit zip code, 4-1-6-3. Defending 116 for the top finish against Sri Lanka, Sadhu took three wickets, including that of opposition captain, Chamari Athapaththu. There was no official Player of the Match award in the Asiad, but if they were to give one, she would have bagged it just like the U19 T20 WC final.

Her rollercoaster 2023 came to an end with a T20 series against England where she bowled three overs across two matches, without any wickets. After carrying drinks in two Tests, and three ODIs, Sadhu finally got the chance to put the bib out and get the ball in the first T20I against Australia at the DY Patil Stadium on Friday. In her very first over, she got rid of Beth Mooney, who has been a rock of Australian batting over the years. Incoming batter, Tahlia McGrath, barely survived the first ball. By her sixth delivery to the Australian vice-captain, Sadhu had her hole out to deep third. A wide followed, but it is allowed if you have just reduced the World Champions to 33 for three. A ball later Ashleigh Gardner was walking back to the pavilion and the 19-year-old's bowling figures read 2-0-3-3. In her final over, after getting hit for a six, she came back and sent Annabel Sutherland packing as Australia slipped to 135 for seven. She fractionally missed her first five-wicket haul when a DRS review helped Georgia Wareham survive. At the end of the sensational day's work, Sadhu's figures were 4-0-17-4. Australia were bowled out for the first time since February 2022 and India could not have asked for a better start to the T20I series in Navi Mumbai as they registered a nine-wicket victory.

Brief scores: Australia 141 in 19.2 ovs (Litchfield 49, Sadhu 4/17) lost to India 145/1 in 17.4 ovs (Mandhana 54, Shafali 64 n.o).

FOOD SECURITY CHALLENGE, FOREST VULNERABILITY

STARES 2024 IN THE FACE

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

There are enormous challenges facing the country's food stock and forest conservation efforts this year. Warmer winter and the emerging geopolitical situations in the Red Sea could impact India's domestic food supply. Besides, a whole swathe of forest land is expected to be diverted for non-forestry purposes following the amendment of the forest conservation laws, which could trigger protests in different parts of the country.

The current warm winter has been a concern for rabi crops production. The Indian Meteorological Department said that the winter temperature was 2-4°C higher than normal in all wheat growing regions in December last. Like the last two years, experts fear the early arrival of heat waves as strong El Nino conditions could persist till May this year. And the early increase of temperature could impact India's wheat production and buffer stock.

El Nino, a climate pattern due to the warming of the East Pacific Ocean, is synonymous with the weakening of the Southwest monsoon in India. Last year, it weakened the Southwest monsoon and reduced the soil moisture for rabi crops, which put further stress on farmers as they were forced to increase investment in irrigation.

Globally, food availability will be a challenge. Last year, due to high international prices, farmers increased their sowing areas. But adverse weather conditions lowered the positive sentiment of 2024. Experts speculated that lesser production of rice, wheat, palm oil, pulses and oilseeds kept exports down. Besides, China building up its food stock since the past two years, kept its global availability under pressure.

Moreover, the recent attack on cargo ships in the Red Sea emerged as another geopolitical challenge to the global food situation after the Russian invasion of Ukraine. There are reports of ship hijacking and attacks on shipments. Ships are being diverted to longer routes which cost time and money. India imports lentils, peas, dry fruits and spices through the Red Sea while exporting rice, spices and others through these routes. The Russia-Ukraine war impacted shipment in 2022-23. The Red Sea situation is expected to impact shipments further.

All those factors can trigger a spike in food prices. But since this is an election year, the government would try to reduce food inflation by, say, reducing import duty and curbing export to control domestic prices. But after the general elections, experts say, the prices of food grains could see a sharp jump.

On the environment front, 2024 may not be a happy year for forest conservation. Recent amendments in the forest conservation Act are expected to result in massive diversion of forest land for non-forest purposes. Protests from communities living in forests cannot be ruled out.

Despite the Supreme Court's ruling against ex-post facto green clearance, there is a growing trend of such approvals of mining and infrastructure projects on forest land. Recently, the SC issued stay orders on a couple of mining projects for which the government had provided ex-post facto forest clearance. The SC had ruled in March 2022 that ex-post facto approval can be granted only in exceptional circumstances after taking all environmental impacts into consideration.

Moreover, legal environment experts have raised an alarm over such a trend. They fear that the amendment of forest conservation laws have widened the gap for exploitation. There are reports that the Union Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change has approved developmental project proposals on forest land like construction of dams, etc., by different state governments. For instance, the Haryana government allowed the construction of a university on protected forest land in the Aravalli hills, which was stuck over the past many years.

The upcoming year would also be a talking point for the conservation of big cats. The government is scheduled to take up the tiger reintroduction initiative in Cambodia and promote more transboundary conservation cooperation with Bangladesh. Another batch of cheetahs would be coming in, probably from Kenya. Moreover, a new breeding centre is coming up in Gujarat, which was not in the Cheetah Action Plan earlier.

Wild gaur attack

KERALA

Rising man-animal conflict adds to climate worries

MANOJ VISWANATHAN

After five years of bountiful rains, Kerala last year was staring at a drought. Since the Southwest monsoon was 34% deficient, major reservoirs have less than half their storage level. However, rising man-animal conflict, sea surge, garbage piling up on the streets and environmental degradation caused by human activities were the issues that kept the state boiling in 2023.

Tigers, elephants, wild gaurs and wild boars strayed into human settlements causing death and crop loss. In fact, around 161 parishes under the Mananthavady diocese and 60 parishes under the eparchy of Idukki, all located on forest fringe areas, had to conclude midnight mass before 10 pm on Christmas eve due to fear of wild animals.

Arikomban's ordeal

On April 29, Arikomban, the tusker with an appetite for rice that had killed seven people and razed 120 houses at Chinnakanal in Idukki district, was tranquilised and released in Periyar Tiger Reserve. In an attempt to return to his habitat, Arikomban entered Cumbum town in Tamil Nadu on May 27 and ran amok leaving three people injured. The 35-year-old tusker was tranquilised again by the Tamil Nadu forest department and shifted to Kalakkad Mundanthurai Tiger Reserve 200 km away from Cumbum. The elephant is said to be healthy and has adapted to the new habitat.

Dhoni, the rogues tusker

Palakkad Tusker (PT)7, later named Dhoni, the village where it unleashed terror by raiding crops and killing a farmer, has been tamed and is learning skills under two mahouts. The elephant had killed a farmer in July 2022 after which the forest department decided to catch it. It was tranquilised on January 22. A Krall (enclosure) was built at Dhoni to tame the elephant, which had partially lost vision on its right eye. Like Arikomban, he has a huge fan following in Kerala.

Tigers kill two farmers

The rising tiger population in the Wayanad Wildlife Sanctuary has been a cause of concern for the people living in its fringes. As many as six tigers entered human habitations in Wayanad in 2023 and killed two farmers. On January 12, a 10-year-old tiger killed Thomas, 51, a farmer at Puthussery in Wayanad. The tiger was caught and shifted to the Animal Hospice Centre at Sultan Bathery on January 14. On December 8, a 13-year-old tiger killed Prajeesh, 36, a dairy farmer at Koodallur near Sultan Bathery. The man-eater was caged on December 18. Another cattle hunting tiger of Cheeral that killed 11 cows and left three other animals injured, was caught on October 27.

Rampaging wild guars gored three persons to death in two separate incidents in Kottayam and Kollam districts on May 19. At Kanamala in Erumeli, a wild guar that strayed from the nearby forest, gored Chackochan, 65, and Thomas, 62. Chackochan was sitting on the verandah of his house when the charging guar hit him.

Thomas was tapping rubber in a plantation when he was attacked. In Kollam, Samuel Varghese, 64, of Edamulakal was attacked when he was visiting his rubber estate. An NRI, Samuel had returned from Dubai only the previous evening.

Rising wild boar menace

The state witnessed numerous incidents of wild boar attacks. As many as 12 people were killed and 89 others sustained injuries as the charging wild boars hit their two-wheelers. According to reports, 12 people lost their lives in wild boar attacks.

213 tigers, 2,386 wild elephants

The status report released by the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) revealed that the tiger population in Kerala increased from 190 in 2018 to 213 in 2022. The population of tigers in Wayanad forests declined from 120 to 84. Periyar has 43 tigers and Parambikulam 42. The remaining 44 tigers were spotted in other reserve forests like Neyyar, Peppara, Senthuruney, Thenmala, Sankhili and Ranni. The wild elephant enumeration for 2023 found that there are only 2,386 wild elephants in the state — a decline of 58.19% compared to the elephant count of 5,706 in 2017. Habitat deterioration, disruption of elephant corridors, destruction of grasslands are the reasons for the decline in population.

NAVAKIRANAM PROJECT

The government has announced Navakiranam project to shift settler farmers outside the forest. The plan is to convert human settlements and plantations located inside protected forests into natural forest. The project has been implemented in 27 forest divisions and 780 families have shifted outside the forest. The government has distributed ₹93.6 crore as compensation to these families.

SEA SURGE

The coastal belt of Kerala has been witnessing sea surge over the past decade. During monsoon season, monster waves batter the coastal hamlets of Chellanam in Ernakulam district, Alappad in Kollam district and Vizhinjam in Thiruvananthapuram district. Two groynes constructed at Muthalapozhi where Vamanapuram river flows into the Arabian Sea, have been posing a threat to fishermen over the past 10 years. As many as 25 fishing crafts crashed here during the Southwest monsoon in 2023. The waves toss the boats that crash against the groynes, killing the fishermen.

BRAHMAPURAM GARBAGE FIRE

The residents of Kochi were choked by toxic fumes billowing from burning plastic at the garbage dump at Brahmapuram garbage dump yard for 12 days from March 2. Huge mounds of garbage rising to 25 ft spread over 40 acres at Brahmapuram caught fire on March 2. The legacy waste of 16 years spewed toxic fumes leaving thousands with respiratory ailments. With the air quality index zooming past 400, people suffered from watering eyes, headache and respiratory problems.

TELANGANA

Top drawer state on environmental performance

NAVYA PARVATHY

SECOND OF A TWO-PART SERIES

Throughout 2023, small and not-so-small environmental triumphs shone in Telangana, which entered the 10th year of its formation.

Recognitions galore

On the eve of World Environment Day (June 5), the 'State of India's Environment 2023' report by the Centre for Science and Environment (CSE) ranked Telangana at the top in terms of overall environmental performance. Leading with a score of 7.213, the country's youngest state was the only one to score more than 7 out of 10, followed by Gujarat with a score of 6.593. The report noted Telangana's progress in increasing its forest cover and in municipal waste treatment. However, the state performance was below par in parameters such as 'share of water bodies not in use', 'stage of groundwater extraction' and 'change in number of polluted river stretches', the report added.

Neknampur lake

In 2023, Neknampur lake in Hyderabad got the attention of the NITI Aayog, with the apex think tank deeming it as the best in lake restoration. The 25-acre lake was once plagued by garbage, sewage, water hyacinths, cultural siltation and debris dumping. It was in 2016 that Dhruvansh Organisation, started by Madhulika Choudhary, began restoration work at the lake. Desilting was carried out and phytoremediation (using plants to remove contaminants) and bioremediation (use of microorganisms to remove contaminants) techniques were employed. According to the NITI Aayog, there has been a 90% reduction in the Biochemical Oxygen Demand (BOD) of the lake.

Victory for the banyans

In a significant judgment in November, the Southern bench of the National Green Tribunal (NGT) directed the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) to conduct an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) before proceeding with the expansion of the Hyderabad-Chevella-Bijapur highway, in order to minimise the loss of nearly 1,000 centuries-old banyan trees in the Chevella region. The NGT directed the Union environment ministry to issue the terms of reference and complete the process within four months. The body also emphasised the need to explore innovative alternatives to protect the banyans.

City of lakes?

However, the year did not bring much relief to Hyderabad's urban lakes. In December, hundreds of dead fish were seen in the waters of the iconic Durgam Cheruvu, or Durgam lake, leading to the Telangana High Court taking suo motu cognisance. An expert committee, led by Dr Atul Narayana Vaidya, Director of the National Environmental Engineering Research Institution (NEERI) in Nagpur, was set up to investigate the matter. Other lakes have not been as lucky. As per the Telangana State Pollution Control Board (TSPCB), there are 185 lakes in the Greater Hyderabad Municipal Corporation limits. According to TSPCB data as of August of 2023, eight lakes have been classified as 'dried up', two lakes completely leveled and one is said to be encroached. No data is available on 41 other urban lakes.

LEOPARD FATALLY TRAPPED

A 3.5-year-old leopard got trapped in a net set up by local farmers to catch monkeys that were damaging crops in Regulapadu village of Alluri Sitarama Raju district. The leopard trapped on November 30 suffered kidney damage and died.

FROM BIOLUMINESCENCE TO LEOPARD ATTACKS AT TIRUPATI

ANDHRA PRADESH

USHER PERI

Andhra Pradesh witnessed a series of environmental and wildlife events, ranging from the rare occurrence of bioluminescence at Bheemili Beach to the tragic mauling of a six-year-old by a leopard in Tirumala. If two Bryde's whales' carcasses washed ashore within four months, fishermen successfully guided a leatherback sea turtle back to the waters. A leopard's demise in nets meant for monkeys and the impact of Cyclone Michaung further marked the state's diverse environmental challenges.

Bioluminescence

Five M Tech students from Andhra University, enjoying a night drive along Visakhapatnam's Bheemili Beach in April, stumbled upon rare blue waves. Intrigued, they waited on the shores, capturing the phenomenon on video. Shared on Twitter by Sai Kiran, known as Vizag Weatherman, the videos quickly went viral. Thanks to the students' shared experience, the public got a glimpse of the rare event, marking its first appearance in Andhra Pradesh.

Leopard mauls 6-yr-old

On August 11, a six-year-old girl was fatally attacked by a leopard while trekking with her parents along the Alipiri footpath to Tirumala. This was the first reported death due to a leopard attack on this route. The next day, authorities discovered the girl's half-eaten body near the seventh mile of the footpath. Since then, the forest department has trapped five leopards in the Tirumala region. On June 22, another six-year-old survived a leopard attack in the same area.

Bryde's whale carcasses

While Bryde's whales died on the Srikakulam coast, a leatherback sea turtle was rescued. Within four months, carcasses of two Bryde's whales washed ashore along the Srikakulam coast on July 27 and November 18. Necropsy on the first revealed starvation as the cause, while the second had no external marks of injury, so it could have died by natural causes. Recurring incidents suggest a significant Bryde's whale population and the need for conservation.

CYCLONE MICHAUNG

Cyclone Michaung in December caused extensive damage. Baptla recorded a loss of approximately 93,000 hectares of crops. A whopping 1.30 lakh acres of paddy fields in Kakinada and Dr B R Ambedkar Konaseema districts were destroyed, while 42,179 hectares in Krishna and 58,000 hectares in Chittoor were affected.

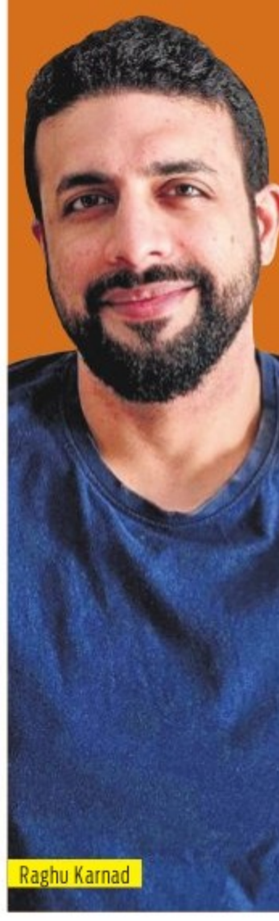
A LASTING LEGACY

The World of Girish Karnad, a new project that attempts to shine a spotlight on some of the lesser-known aspects of the late celebrated writer, includes a weekly newsletter that explores themes and topics that were close to Karnad's heart



Raghu Karnad

DESE GOWDA

As one of the foremost playwrights in modern Indian literature, he gave the world iconic works like Nagamandala and Tughlaq. Through his extensive contributions to parallel cinema and teleserials, he not only entertained but also exposed an entire generation and more to the complexities of social and cultural themes. As a vocal critic and passionate activist, he unflinchingly defended freedom of expression and addressed critical issues – religious fundamentalism, casteism, gender discrimination, and environmental concerns. Girish Karnad was more than the sum of the roles he took up throughout his life.

Now, a new weekly newsletter titled Tell It Again – which debuted on Jan 2, hopes to keep Karnad's legacy visible to the public, informing and inspiring a new generation of people. "After my father's passing, many of his friends and associates suggested that we should do something to keep his legacy and works in the public mind," says Raghu Karnad, writer and son of Girish Karnad. "At the Girish Karnad festival at Dharwad in 2022, KM Chaitanya, one of my father's filmmaking proteges, and I, decided that it made sense to share parts of my father's legacy in a place where people could easily find it and learn new things. That idea had been with me for while, but what put things into motion was when I moved back – last monsoon – from New York to Bombay, to the flat where my family lived. Although many people have stayed in that house and we never really let it be empty, it was only when we moved back, did we start going through lots of old material and stores of past papers that have been there since the '80s. The mid-80s was a productive and inspiring time for my father, it was the time when he was working on his film Utsav, and finished his most acclaimed play Nagamandala. So handling material – production drawings, images, his notes and more – from that period really inspired me to share them with the public," he explains.

Curated by Harismita Vaideswaran, a PhD research scholar in English Literature at the University of Delhi, the newsletter explores themes and topics that Girish Karnad was interested in, wrote about, or had an intimate connection with. "Pretty much anything that was a major feature – a play, a film, a creative, academic, or scholarly association, work in an industry, etc – has the potential to be on the cards as a theme," says Vaideswaran, adding, "We picked Utsav as the theme for our first newsletter because it had a fascinating story of its own outside of the film itself – right from how it was conceived to its release. People might have seen the film or heard/read about it, but it made for a riveting and likely unfamiliar tale of its own. We're exploring the Mahabharata this week. To me, there's no end to the things we can think through, say, and unravel about Girish Karnad's relationship with and deployment of the Mahabharata in his plays. Besides, the Mahabharata and the many conversations around it as a story and as text, remain relevant as ever."

Meanwhile, the project also aims to make use of extensive archival material to spotlight some of the lesser-known aspects of Girish Karnad. "It is going to have everything from papers to photographs and correspondence. Our first newsletter also had material such as production art, and his notes on the original Sanskrit play, Mricchakatika. We'll be including more of that sort of material as and when they find a place in our themes," Vaideswaran adds.

GLIMPSE OF THE GENIUS

KM Chaitanya

I belong to a generation that not only grew up seeing and performing Karnad's plays, but also listening to him speak on literature, culture, society and politics. Since I worked with him closely, I was able to observe and learn much from him. In the two decades of closely interacting with him, I had a lot of material that I wanted to share. Since social media is a familiar platform to the younger generation, we decided to share some the material there. The idea is to not only post the material but also give it context. And Karnad was always relevant. This newsletter seeks to bring the world of Karnad to readers, and give a glimpse of the multifaceted genius that he was.

The short film Yaarigu Helonu Byada is an exploration of friendship and love that also interacts with caste and discrimination

EXPRESS FEATURES

Mirroring society

As much as movies are about entertainment, they are also about holding up a mirror to society. Though the short film Yaarigu Helonu Byada is about love and friendship on the surface, at its core, it is about caste and discrimination. The story revolves around three friends in their 20s – Theju, Gautam, and Kashyap. Actor Ajay Tambe, who plays the role of Kashyap and also penned the script, mentions the title of the film Yaarigu Helonu Byada draws inspiration from the poetry of Kannada writer DR Bendre. "However, the movie takes a darker turn, unfolding as a tragic love triangle. It serves as a poignant commentary on Brahmanical society, cultural biases, and the intricate dynamics of love, friendship, betrayal, and personal conflict," explains Tambe.

Growing up in a caste-biased society, Tambe's stories are usually inspired by personal experience. "I studied at MES Degree College of Arts, Science, and Commerce in Malleswaram. I saw firsthand how caste could play an important role in a conversation or as simple as making friends. Though all the incidents shown in my movies are not from personal experiences, when I sit down to write a story, my experiences inform my thinking," says Tambe.

Tambe explains that his stories are never about victimising a certain clan. "The story is coming from a place of uncomfortable experiences and I just want people to explore the story. I don't want it to victimise the community which is already oppressed. I want to put a camera on the perpretators," says Tambe.

Having been screened thrice in the city, the short film has managed to gather a niche crowd for itself. "A PhD scholar from England who is working on caste and religion reached out to us to know the point of view of the film," says Tambe, who also co-produced it along with his friend Gautam Pallakki. He hopes to send the film to various short film festivals, however, because of it having already been released on YouTube, he is currently figuring out the festivals that do not have these rules.

ON A VEGAN QUEST

ANUSHREE MADHAVAN

You have a wide range of recipes from Indian cuisine that are vegan in nature, so you're still eating beautiful, wholesome classics like a Sindhi bhee kebab or Maharastrain kothambir vadi," says Sonal Ved, and we could not agree more. Flipping through the pages of her latest offering The Indian Vegan (HarperCollins Publishers India; ₹999), a cookbook that delves into vegan dishes from cuisines across India, I realise how many of our dishes are vegan without proclaiming to be so. Concurring, Sonal tells me that South Indian cuisines indeed have more vegan dishes. "They use a whole lot of alternative coconut milk not only to the curries but also to add body and texture to gravy pastes that would otherwise use yoghurt. It's relatively more vegan friendly," she says.

Besides presenting a curated list of vegan dishes, Sonal also offers alternatives to substitutes like soya, jackfruit or tofu giving readers newer inspirations. From Manipur to Maharashtra, Kashmir to Kanniyakumari, Sonal does a deepdive into the variety of cuisines India has to offer. After publishing two books in 2023, Sonal is set to spend 2024 researching for the next topic. "It will be spent on eating some more, discovering new micro cuisines and recipes. All I can promise is that there will definitely be more cookbooks," she adds. Excerpts:

Tell us about your journey into veganism

My journey began with cutting the cord with yoghurt, an ingredient I had been obsessed with all my life. I ate a yoghurt bowl for breakfast, drank chaas after lunch, and had raita at dinner. Yet somehow, I didn't know it wasn't working for my body, not until I tried a vegan diet. Today, I practice a diet that is 80 per cent plant-based, filled with whole grains, fresh vegetables, fruits, alternative mylks, less gluten and more millets. .

While coconut mylk works well in Indian dishes, what about the other kinds?

Whether it's oat mylk that will work wonderfully to dilute any thick tomato or spinach gravies and give the dish a heavy body, or it's almond mylk that delivers a nutty flavour plus creaminess, alternative mylks work wonderfully with Indian cuisine.

What would your suggestion be for a simple vegan thali for lunch?

I would serve a pudina panki, lilwa kachori, bajra rotla pockets as a side on the plate. For the main course one bowl will have my jackfruit kosha mangsho, Parsi pumpkin patio, Garhwali kafuli, Bengali 'plastic' chutney, gluten-free besan roti and cashew phirni for dessert.

FIT BIT

KUNTASANA (SPEAR POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'kunta' means spear, and 'asana' means pose or posture. This pose combines the hip-opening aspects of a squat and is great for building strength in the quadriceps, hip flexors, knee joints, and abdominal and intrinsic muscles. This is a powerful standing posture that offers numerous benefits for the mind, body, and spirit.

STEPS

- Start in Tadasana (Mountain Pose) and keep your feet hip-width apart.
- Step forward with your left foot, keeping it perpendicular to the floor, with your toes facing in front.
- Extend your arms straight out to the sides, parallel to the ground, with palms facing down.
- After that, pivot on your right foot, turning it slightly outward, and place it on your right hip.
- Inhale deeply, lengthening your spine, and exhale as you bend your right knee, getting into a lunge position.
- Now, extend your right arm downward and raise your left arm up.
- Ensure that your right arm is down and your left arm is up, in one line, with shoulders in between, creating a spear-like shape with your body.
- Turn your head slightly to your left and look straight at a fixed point.
- Hold the pose for several breaths, maintaining balance and stability.
- Repeat on the other side, switching the position of your feet and arms.

BENEFITS

- Engages various muscle groups, including the legs, core, and shoulders, promoting overall strength and stability.
- Regular practise can help build a strong foundation for the body, improving balance and coordination.
- Stretches the spine, hamstrings, and hip flexors, enhancing flexibility and range of motion.
- Helps release tension in the lower back and improves posture.
- Deep stretching in the abdominal area stimulates digestion and aids in detoxification.
- Improves digestive issues and enhances the overall functioning of the digestive system.
- Opens the chest and expands the lungs.
- Relieves stress, anxiety, and depression.

LIMITATIONS

People suffering from severe pain in their knee joints, arms, legs, hips, shoulders, or have lower back injuries should avoid this asana. Pregnant women should not practise this pose.

SUNLIGHT & STARSHINE

EVERY year I convince myself that I will not fall into the trap of inauthentically (but enthusiastically) wishing everyone a 'Happy New Year', but alas! I am too chicken not to. Fortunately, this year the zealousness was slightly toned down. It may also be because, this time I was out of town and I was not physically present for the bone-crushing hugs and 'slouster' (to kiss in a slobbery way). The greetings and ardent outpouring of epistles on social-media ensured that answering became necessary, so as to not sound rude. I have thankfully been away from the madding crowd ensconced in the warmth of my extended family for the last two weeks and Lord! I am the happier for it (read deliriously happier). I will be returning to namma ooru singing Karan Johar's anthem, 'It's all about loving your family'!

I think as time goes by one becomes mentally mature (better than saying older), things that are important and worthwhile comes into fore. There isn't an iota of doubt in my mind, that the sense of belonging, the banter, the unbridled laughter, conversation and unconditional love that one gets from one's family is unmatched. Even friendly squabbling, sibling rivalry and bonding becomes an art form. We were all together after years and just watching Gen-Z keeping up with Gen-X took the pressure off us baby-boomers! We went on a short holiday to an up-market beach resort island close to Mumbai, and I quite liked the idea of zipping off on private speedboats and checking into a fully equipped palatial house on the beachfront with a pool and polite wait-staff. Our days were spent lolling by the pool/beach, planning the next meal, making sure we stayed happily inebriated, gossiping and generally catching up on all the lost time. I wouldn't have traded this time for all the jewels (or perfumes) in Arabia.

I have consciously weaned myself off social-media and I find my head space less cluttered. Being around a gaggle of family and friends helped considerably as the conversation and laughter rarely ceased long enough for any of us to bury our respective noses into our phones. I was pleasantly surprised with the young 'uns who were busy swimming, water boarding, playing on the beach and in the pool and spending great quality time with their toddlers. Great wholesome fun, all true and real and not fake, simulated and pseudo. This reunion has put many things in perspective for me. I have been spending New Year day with only family and friends like family for a couple of years now. It started when my kids were little and it suddenly dawned on me that I was running out and celebrating with total strangers and accepting inebriated hugs and sodden kisses on the cheek, while my greatest gifts, my mom and my children were at home! Crazy!

I have spent a beautiful fortnight travelling on speed boats, private planes, private beaches and beach houses. The days were filled with champagne nights and caviar dreams. New year, new beginnings, family bonding and the high life…I can get used to this lifestyle!

But I have learned. Never lose hope. When the sun goes down the stars come out…Happy New Year amigas.

Sipping into the Future: A Smoky Start for 2024

STARTING Point 2024

MIXOLOGY
JONES ELISH
(The writer is beverage head - south at SOCIAL)

AS we raise our glasses to welcome 2024, mezcal, the spirit filled with unique and flavourful experiences, is poised to take centre stage and set the tone for a year. This artisanal Mexican spirit is not just a drink; it's a celebration of tradition, craftsmanship, and an unmatched smoky allure.

Mezcal stands apart with a unique flavour profile, derived from the slow roasting of agave hearts in earthen pits. The meticulous handcrafted techniques infuse it with an authentic, one-of-a-kind touch that resonates with enthusiasts seeking a singular zest in their imbibing adventures.

Each bottle of mezcal is a testament to dedication and attention to detail, elevating it to the realm of true artisanal craftsmanship. Its ascent to popularity is fuelled by a growing recognition of its status as a premium spirit. Personally, working with Mezcal has become a delightful experience, with mezcal and soda quickly becoming my go-to drink. The smoky and complex flavour profile elevates every sip, creating a sensory journey that is both sophisticated and satisfying.

As we embrace the New Year, mezcal's rich cultural legacy and diverse flavour profiles position it as the drink of choice for those looking to savour something special.

Crafting the perfect mezcal cocktail

One cocktail that highlights mezcal's versatility is a harmonious blend of mezcal, campari, and vermouth. It seamlessly balances the warmth of agave, the bitterness of campari, and the aromatic allure of vermouth in each sip, bearing testimony to the depth and complexity that mezcal brings to a cocktail.

While this cocktail alone is a delight, pairing it with a delectable dish like a prawn ghee roast or some other bold flavoured dish enhances the overall experience. The smokiness of the mezcal complements the bold flavours of the spicy prawns, creating a culinary symphony that tantalises the taste buds.

This maybe the time to indulge in a spirit that has the richness of tradition and the excitement of the unexpected. Enjoy it neat, blend it in a cocktail, or pair it with someeats, it will surely ignite our senses and capture hearts all through the year.

'MY JOURNEY IN RANGABHOOMI HAS CONTRIBUTED TO MY GROWTH AS A DIRECTOR'

A SHARADHAA

DIRECTOR Tharun Kishore Sudhir's latest film, Kaatera, starring Challenging Star Darshan, has become a bonafide blockbuster, entering the 100 crore club. In a heartfelt note, he expressed immense gratitude to fans, farmers, and the Kannada Film Industry, acknowledging their pivotal role in bringing this vision to life. He credited the unwavering support of trailblazers like actor Darshan, Rockline Venkatesh, and his team, emphasising their faith as the cornerstone of Kaatera's success. Tharun highlighted the fans' overwhelming love as the driving force, expressing deep emotion and appreciation for their unwavering support.

"The victory of Kaatera goes beyond words. We knew the film's content would resonate well, but we faced our own challenges. The tremendous reception from people is overwhelming. They've embraced the film completely. I've spent three to four minutes reading lengthy messages, friends pouring their emotions out because they connected with it deeply. Everyone has their perspective on the film, mentioning it as a win for the Kannada film industry. It's tied to myriad emotions. People are passionately championing the film. While Roberrt was appreciated as a hit, with Kaatera, they're expressing gratitude and thanking me and Darshan for bringing this film to life."

In an extensive chat, post-release, Tharun Kishore Sudhir shares insights on his hattrick moment, his comprehension of cinema, collaborating with a star like Darshan, multilingual versus Kannada projects, thoughts on box office collections, overseas release, and his upcoming endeavours...

EXCERPTS

How does Tharun define this moment as he celebrates a hat-trick of successes, from his debut, Chowka to a hit mass entertainer, Roberrt, and now the blockbuster Kaatera?

Be it Chowka, Roberrt, or Kaatera, and even my films as a creative director, I approach each movie with immense respect and a sense of divinity. I've always believed there are more talented directors than me. To compete with them, my only path is to put in more work, striving to match their caliber. This mindset remains constant for every film, treating each one like my first. Cinema isn't just my profession; it's been a part of me since birth. I've experienced the highs and lows of this industry. As a director, one success leads to the next project, guiding my path forward. This devotion to my work as a filmmaker never wavers, nor do I take it for granted.

Coming from a film background, before becoming a director, he also played pivotal roles in various films. Did this journey aid his understanding of cinema?

Not significantly, but my journey in Rangabhoomi helped me immensely. My work in drama contributed to my growth as a director. As an actor, I had minimal learning except for some technical aspects. Acting mostly involved focusing ninety percent on the craft, rarely delving behind the camera. It was when I started collaborating with my friends Dinakar Thoogudeepa and Raghuram, contributing to storylines, and receiving appreciation, that my directorial thoughts began to spark. For me, my theater background is more significant than my acting career. Moreover, our theater was professional, encompassing commercial elements like songs and dialogues, eliciting instant audience reactions. I grasped their pulse, which drives my inclination towards being a commercial director, making films for a larger audience. I can't create films for a silent audience; I target larger, mass audiences.

Darshan has headlined Chowka (2017), Roberrt (2021), and now Kaatera (2023). What helped you understand this star actor better?

My journey with Darshan began with his first film, Majestic, which significantly shaped my understanding. I've been alongside him from the start, witnessing his strengths and performances, and knowing what he's capable of. When I stepped into directing, despite our friendly rapport off-set, the on-set dynamics were different. He becomes a thorough professional. I'm the director, and he's the actor. However, having seen all 55 of his films and journeyed with him, I've comprehended what connects with audiences, and what they admire about him. It's been a form of research. Similarly, my successful collaborations with Sharan stem from my journey with him. Likewise, with a star like Darshan, I have that added advantage.

Who forms your support system in churning out such visions?

Primarily, my strength, or perhaps my weakness, lies in enjoying handling all the work and overseeing everything personally. While I might have delegated tasks, I still willingly volunteered and cross-checked. However, I always prioritise my team's suggestions, especially from individuals like cinematographer Sudhakar S Raj, editor K M Prakash, and Jadeshaa K Hampi regarding the story, among others. If they have any reservations, I make an effort to rework or at least convince them otherwise. That said, I've never allowed anyone to dominate the script. Fortunately, I have a team that adheres to it. Technicians discuss scenes beforehand, and even with Darshan, I inform him well in advance and value his input.

As a city person, how did you manage to immerse yourself in village life and craft a story like Kaatera, which is based on real-life incidents set in the 1970s?

I was born in Hosapete, but I was raised in Bengaluru. While travelling with my parents for theater, we often camped in villages for extended periods. Even when I had school, I lived a part of my life in the village. So, I have some familiarity with village life. However, for a subject like Kaatera, extensive research and homework were essential to comprehend the old Mysuru and its essence.

Do you believe that certain skills are required to work with a star?

No job is easy; you adapt and work accordingly, whether it's with a star or a friend. This is our profession. Ultimately, people watch our work on screen and are unaware of what happens behind the scenes. Ego has no place here; what appears on screen, especially with a star, holds significance. Growing up with my father, an actor, I learned how to understand and handle actors. I treated Kumar Govind the same way Darshan was treated, as it was something insisted on by the latter. Creating a conducive atmosphere on set is crucial. Understanding and making actors comfortable is key; when you pamper your actors, they deliver their best.

Was a multilingual release considered for a film like Kaatera, or was Kannada the preferred wavelength for the actor, director, and producer?

I was comfortable with the idea, whether it was solely in Kannada or released in five languages; it made no difference to me. My focus was on telling a story, which I knew was my strength. Typically, a film starts in its original language and may later be dubbed and released in other languages. Juggling multiple languages while crafting a story of our land, isn't feasible for me. When making Roberrt, I was set on a dual-language release and included elements connecting both languages. However, with Kaatera, the vision was solely for Kannada. Nonetheless, if producer Rockline Venkatesh or Darshan decides, the story could potentially reach other languages, but even if it doesn't, it's alright. People have always enjoyed films with subtitles, and dubbing has made it easier for audiences to watch in their preferred languages. My focus right now is to tell stories in my language, leveraging my strengths.

Kaatera* is making a big splash abroad

This is a great step towards reaching a wider audience for Kannada cinema. We aim to expand our viewership, both locally in Karnataka and internationally, and releasing Kaatera abroad aligns with that objective.

What's your perspective on box office collection?

Numbers primarily serve producers and have a limited impact elsewhere; they're not transferable or up for discussion. Just like any product, each film holds its own value and brand. It's disheartening that the celebration of cinema's success often gets overshadowed by negativity. People cheer when box office numbers of films in other languages hit the 600 crore mark. So why not appreciate successful Kannada films in the same way?

What's next for Tharun after a blockbuster?

I'm filled with excitement and curiosity about my next project. However, I'm currently fully engaged with Kaatera, striving to elevate it to new heights and reach different audiences. It holds tremendous potential and offers various avenues. Perhaps, I'll take a short break later and delve into my scripts to make a decision. I have ongoing discussions for another collaboration with Darshan, but the timing of its realisation remains uncertain. Darshan has always been open and welcoming, not judging solely based on my success. We'll see when it materialises and when we plan to move forward. I'm open to working with actors who fit the story.

Ajay Warriar releases a Banjara single, marking the 19th step in his multilingual musical journey

Ajay Warriar

CE FEATURES

TO mark his 23 years of musical journey, on the occasion of New Year 2024, Ajay Warriar dropped a Banjara song, titled Soorajj Nisaraa, which marks the 19th language he has composed a song in. He has covered 18 languages so far including Kannada, Tulu, Konkani, Kodava, Bhairi, Telugu, Tamil, Malayalam, Hindi, Oriya, Bengali, Marathi, Arabic, and English among others. He has mostly churned out devotional and private albums and has sung for over 250 film songs.

Originally a salesperson in Kuwait, Ajay later switched to shipping, but his heart always sang the tune of music. He recalls, "My big moment was when the legendary Singer L R Eashwari came to Kuwait hunting for a male voice for her show. Later that year, on vacation in India, music director V Manohar Sir told me there was a need for male voices in the Kannada Industry. He suggested I stick around if I was serious about music. That's when I decided to give it a shot, and Manohar kept his word by giving me a straight song alongside another legendary singer, KS Chitra. That's when I waved goodbye to my fancy job and chased after music."

Today, Ajay feels proud to have sung and released songs in 18 languages, which is a massive achievement. He credits his dad PVS Warriar as his first teacher. Ajay has collaborated with several music directors like Ilaiyaraja, Hamsalekha, and many more. "Working with stars like SP Balasubramanyam, KJ Yesudas, and KS Chitra has been both a blessing and an incredible learning experience. By April, I want to bring original songs, and want to do songs in more foreign languages, and also work on bringing more devotional songs," signs off a confident Ajay.
